FLAG DAY June 14

(See page 8)

Memorial Day

Memorial Day is one of our most patriotic holidays in the United States of America. It is the day we have set aside to honor those who have given the ultimate sacrifice for our Country and for all of us.

These fallen heroes, recent and past, fought for the United States to create and preserve the freedoms and liberties with which we are blessed, that go far beyond those that any other nation on earth has ever had.

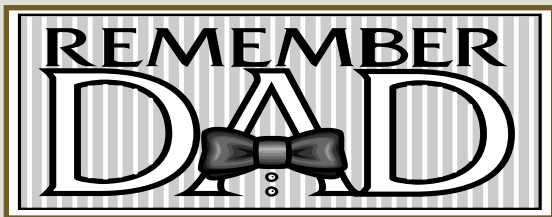

One day, reserved for so many, is very little time taken out of 365 days in the entire year to remember and to thank our heroes. This is also a time when we should ask the question of ourselves how to best contribute our efforts to insure that all the world knows how very special we are as a Country.

Although America is having difficult times right now, we are fortunate to still have those who are still giving their all in defending our amazing American way of life.

We are forever grateful for their service and we pray that God blesses them in their mission.

Our Lady of the Resurrection Medical Center Ranks in the Top 5% in the Nation for Emergency Medicine

Our Lady of the Resurrection Medical Center ranks in the top five percent of U.S. hospitals for emergency medicine, according to a new study released April 2011 by HealthGrades®, an independent health care ratings company.

As a result of this ranking, Our Lady of the Resurrection Medical Center received the HealthGrades 2011 Emergency Medicine Excellence Award™. The hospital is one of only 268 of the nearly 5,000 non-federal hospitals in the nation, one of only 18 Illinois hospitals and one of only five in Chicago to be recognized with this award.

“It is rewarding to receive recognition as an emergency medicine health care leader in Chicago and the nation,” said Martin Judd, executive vice president and chief executive officer, Our Lady of the Resurrection Medical Center. “This achievement confirms our successful approach to treating the individual while providing the highest quality health care. Residents of Chicago’s Northwest Side are getting superior care equal to the best in the country right here in their neighborhood.”

The HealthGrades 2011 Emergency Medicine in American Hospitals Study analyzed more than seven million Medicare patient records from 2007 to 2009. The study focused on 12 of the most common and life-threatening medical emergencies among that patient population, including heart attack, stroke, pneumonia and chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD).

“Attending to life-threatening conditions such as those in the HealthGrades study requires immediate, competent medical care for successful patient outcomes,” said David Bordo, M.D., Medical Director, Emergency Department. “This independent study illustrates our commitment to clinical excellence as physicians, nurses and staff work collaboratively in caring for patients and their families.”

On average, Medicare patients treated at hospitals recognized with a HealthGrades Emergency Medicine Excellence Award had a 40 percent lower risk of death compared to patients treated at other hospitals. For the 12 conditions studied, the on average percentage of cases admitted through the emergency department increased 2.64 percent from 2007 to 2009.

“In the case of a medical emergency, patients need to get to the closest emergency room as fast as possible - no exceptions,” said Dr. Rick May, study co-author and HealthGrades Vice President of Clinical Quality Services. “That said, we encourage patients to prepare in advance by identifying top-performing hospitals close to home. Our research shows that it’s not just the care you receive the moment you arrive that makes the difference between life and death, but the hospital’s ability to continue to provide you with the right care at the right time if you need to be admitted.”

Our Lady of the Resurrection Medical Center also received HealthGrades 2011 five-star ratings, the highest level for successful patient outcomes, in the treatment of: heart attack, heart failure, COPD, sepsis and respiratory failure, and hip fracture repair.

Autism Society and AMC Theatres® to Host Sensory Friendly Films® This June

AMC Theatres (AMC) and the Autism Society have teamed up to bring families affected by autism and other disabilities and sensory issues a special opportunity to enjoy their favorite films in a safe and accepting environment on a monthly basis. Sensory Friendly Films® will continue with a showing of Kung Fu Panda 2 on June 4.

Autism is a complex neurodevelopmental disability that affects a person’s ability to communicate and interact with others. It often comes with sensory challenges, such as hypersensitivity to light or sound, and children or adults affected by autism may not understand the social boundaries of movie theatre etiquette, such as not talking during the film or sitting still through most of the show.

In order to provide a more accepting and comfortable setting for children with autism or other special needs, AMC movie auditoriums will have their lights brought up and the sound turned down, families will be able to bring in their own gluten-free, casein-free snacks, and no previews or advertisements will be shown before the movie. Additionally, audience members are welcome to get up and dance, walk, shout or sing - in other words, AMC’s “Silence is Golden®” policy will not be enforced unless the safety of the audience is questioned. Tickets can be purchased on the day of the event.

Kung Fu Panda 2 Saturday, June 4 10 a.m.

AMC Showplace Galewood 14, 5530 W Homer St, Chicago, IL, 60639

AMC Village Crossing 18, 7000 Carpenter Rd, Skokie, IL, 60077

AMC Showplace Niles 12, 301 Golf Mill Center, Niles, IL 60714

A list and map of participating theatres is available at www.autism-society.org/sensoryfilms. This nationwide event has 133 theatres in 62 markets in the United States and Canada.

An estimated 30 million people in the world have an autism spectrum disorder, 1.5 million in America alone. In America, 1 in every 110 children has an autism spectrum disorder. These families face challenges of care, support, education, financial hardship and medical and health care issues that make autism a national public health issue, costing the U.S. economy $60 billion a year. Though there is no cure, autism is treatable and individuals with autism have tremendous potential.

West Nile Virus Season is Here – Tips & Reminders to Stay Safe

West Nile Virus season begins in May and the Evanston Health Department is asking residents to inspect their yards and homes for any containers holding water for more than three days. These containers include watering cans, pet dishes, Frisbees and plastic cups among others. West Nile Virus mosquitoes are not associated with floods but rather heat and drought.

West Nile virus is transmitted through the bite of a mosquito that has picked up the virus by feeding on an infected bird. Most people with the virus have no clinical symptoms of illness, but some may become ill three to 15 days after the bite of an infected mosquito. The first human case in Illinois is not usually reported until July or later.

Only about two people in ten who are bitten by an infected mosquito will experience any illness. Illness from West Nile is usually mild and includes fever, headache and body aches, but serious illness, such as encephalitis and meningitis, and death are possible. Persons older than 50 years of age have the highest risk of severe disease.

The best way to prevent West Nile disease or any other mosquito-borne illness is to reduce the number of mosquitoes around your home and to take personal precautions to avoid mosquito bites. Precautions include:

Avoid being outdoors when mosquitoes are most active, especially between dusk and dawn.

When outdoors, wear shoes and socks, long pants and a long-sleeved shirt, and apply insect repellent that includes DEET, picaridin, oil of lemon eucalyptus or IR 3535 according to label instructions. Consult a physician before using repellents on infants.

Make sure doors and windows have tight-fitting screens. Repair or replace screens that have tears or other openings. Try to keep doors and windows shut, especially at night.

Eliminate all sources of standing water that can support mosquito breeding, including water in bird baths, ponds, flowerpots, wading pools, old tires and any other receptacles. In communities where there are organized mosquito control programs, contact your municipal government to report areas of stagnant water in roadside ditches, flooded yards and similar locations that may produce mosquitoes.

Urban Wildlife

The Best Ways to Help Injured or Orphaned Animals

Spring and summer are busy baby-making times in the animal kingdom... even the urban animal kingdom here in the city. Sadly, spring and summer also see an increase in injured and orphaned animals. Most of us want to help, but are unprepared and do not know what is the best course of action. Much depends upon the particular animal, time of year, and type of injury, but here are a few tips to use in a pinch. Clip this article to carry in your wallet so the information is handy when you need it most. Want to be prepared and save crucial time? Keep a cardboard box with holes, an old-tee shirt, and gloves in your car.

Be sure the animal is truly injured or orphaned. Often wildlife parents leave young by themselves during the day or may be watching nearby.

Intervene if:

The animal is presented to you by a dog or cat

The animal is bleeding or you see a limb that appears broken

You observe a live bird on the ground with few or no feathers (it is a myth that a mother bird will reject a baby that has been handled by a human)

The animal is shivering

You see a dead parent

Avoid the temptation to give an animal food or drink or try to administer first aid yourself. More often than not, these attempts actually cause more injury.

Contact a licensed and human animal rehabilitator in your area (below is a list of nearby wildlife rehabilitators trusted by Urban Wildlife Coalition).

Unless the rehabilitator instructs you otherwise, follow these guidelines:

Find a cardboard box or container that closes. Punch holes from the inside out.

Place a soft cloth or tee-shirt at the bottom

Wearing gloves, gently scoop the animal up (you may want to use a towel or pillowcase) and place it in the box.

While you wait to transport the animal, store box in a warm, dark, quiet place away from pets, children, and noise.

Keep sound to a minimum. Though you may be tempted to play soft music or talk quietly to the animal, these unusual sounds can frighten it even more.

Do not leave the animal alone.

Diamond Frost is a Gardener's Best Friend

by Nick Urhausen

In the past few years, an exciting new plant has been introduced which is unlike any you've ever seen or grown. This plant was recently the U.K.'s Plant of the Year, and it has won numerous awards and honors at trials all over the United States. The name of this new unique plant is Diamond Frost, and it is a member of the Euphorbia family. This plant is an annual which will survive as long as temperatures stay above 30 degrees F.

Diamond Frost boasts nonstop clouds of airy white blooms. This plant is very easy to grow due to its exceptional heat and drought tolerance. It simply never goes out of bloom. Diamond Frost is versatile, as it can grow anywhere from a full sun to a part shade location. The plant should be watered when the soil is dry and periodically fertilized with any well balanced fertilizer.

The uses for Diamond Frost are as abundant as its blooms. The plant can be grown in planters, hanging baskets, or the ground. In all uses, it can be planted alone for a dramatic, elegant display of white flowers, or combined with other plants and used as an accent plant. The tiny white blooms will brighten up any mixed planting. Diamond Frost has a mounding upright habit, and will grow into a robust 12" wide by 16" tall plant.

Everyone should try at least one Diamond Frost plant in their plantings this year. Whether you are an expert or a casual gardener, you will be pleased with the results. It is likely that Diamond Frost will become a staple of your plantings, and you will be growing this plant for many seasons to come.

World's Fastest Birds Return to Nest at Evanston Library - Public Invited to Banding/Naming of Baby Falcons

Four baby peregrine falcons hatched in early May high above the downtown Evanston streets at the Evanston Public Library. The library has been home to eight consecutive generations of the world's fastest birds hatching over twenty peregrine falcons.

"For the past several years, a pair of peregrine falcons has nested on one of the columns along the south side of the library and at least one eyas (baby falcon) has successfully fledged each year," explained Evanston Public Library Director Mary Johns. "While the nest cannot be viewed directly from either inside or outside the building, the library has set up a webcam which transmits a streaming live image for all to enjoy."

The public is invited to join staff in naming and banding of this year's brood of baby peregrine falcons, an ongoing tradition of the Evanston Public Library Peregrine Falcon Program, on Tuesday, May 31st at 11a.m., on the third floor of the library. Mary Hennen and Matt Gies, representatives from Chicago's Field Museum of Natural History and the Shedd Aquarium, will oversee the delicate operation.

The peregrine falcon is a raptor, or bird of prey. Adults have blue-gray wings, dark brown backs, a buff colored underside with brown spots, and white faces with a black tear stripe on their cheeks. They have a hooked beaks and strong talons. Peregrine falcons are the fastest flying birds in the world – they are able to dive at 200 miles per hour and catch their prey in mid-air. There are an estimated 1,650 breeding pairs in the United States and Canada.

Peregrine Falcons have adapted to living in many cities and make use of tall buildings that provide suitable ledges for nesting and depend on the large populations of pigeons and starlings in cities for food. Peregrine falcons mate for life and breed in the same territory each year.

"Peregrine Falcons nested on the library for the first time in the summer of 2004. That year there were four eggs, but shortly after the eggs hatched the female broke her wing leaving the male to raise the chicks on his own. Only one chick successfully fledged. The female with the broken wing received veterinary treatment and now appears in nature education programs," added Library Director Johns.

In 2010, three library peregrine falcons were banded, sampled and named in May. Their names are: Lorraine (in honor of Lorraine H. Morton, Evanston's first African-American mayor), Hennen (in honor of Mary Hennen, the director of the Chicago Peregrine Program for 19 years), and Perkins (after Dwight Perkins who was known as the "father" of the Cook County Forest Preserve System).

The peregrine falcon, a symbol of the once endangered species, mirrors the rebirth of libraries across the nation. Librarians are as busy as the falcon parents, providing ready access to information, employment assistance for job seekers, bridging the digital divide for the homeless, supporting our beleaguered schools with community outreach programs, homework help, and early childhood through teen programs. While providing books to be sure, libraries are vital to the people of the towns and cities they serve.

“Flag Day”, June 14th.

The Stars and Stripes originated as a result of a resolution adopted by the Marine Committee of the Second Continental Congress at Philadelphia on June 14, 1777.

The laws relating to the flag of the United States of America are found in detail in the United States Code. Title 4, Chapter 1 pertains to the flag and seal, seat of Government and the States; Title 18, Chapter 33 pertains to crimes and criminal procedures; Title 36, Chapter 10 pertains to patriotic customs and observances. These laws were supplemented by Executive Orders and Presidential Proclamations.

To quote the writer Henry Ward Beecher (1813-1887), "A thoughtful mind when it sees a nation's flag, sees not the flag, but the nation itself. And whatever may be its symbols, its insignia, he reads chiefly in the flag, the government, the principles, the truths, the history that belongs to the nation that sets it forth. The American flag has been a symbol of Liberty and men rejoiced in it.

"The stars upon it were like the bright morning stars of God, and the stripes upon it were beams of morning light. As at early dawn the stars shine forth even while it grows light, and then as the sun advances that light breaks into banks and streaming lines of color, the glowing red and intense white striving together, and ribbing the horizon with bars effulgent, so, on the American flag, stars and beams of many-colored light shine out together..."

How to Fly the United States Flag - Ten Guidelines:

(From literature by the VFW National Veterans and Military Services)

1. The flag should be hoisted briskly and lowered ceremoniously.
2. The flag is never allowed to touch the ground or the floor.
3. When hung over a sidewalk on a rope extending from a building to a pole, the union stars are always away from the building.
4. When vertically hung over the center of the street, the flag always has the union stars to the north in an east/west street, and to the east in a north/south street.
5. The flag of the United States of America should be at the center and at the highest point of the group when a number of flags of states or localities or pennants of societies are grouped and displayed from staffs.
6. The flag should never be festooned, drawn back, nor up, in folds but always allowed to fall free.
7. The flag should be displayed at half-staff until noon on Memorial Day then raised to the top of the staff.
8. Never fly the flag upside down except as a signal of distress in instances of extreme danger to life or property.
9. The flag is never flown in inclement weather except when using an all-weather flag.
10. The flag can be flown every day from sunrise to sunset and at night if illuminated properly.

WHAT MAKES A DAD

*God took the strength of a mountain,
The majesty of a tree,
The warmth of a summer sun,
The calm of a quiet sea,
The generous soul of nature,
The comforting arm of night,
The wisdom of the ages,
The power of the eagle's flight,
The joy of a morning in spring,
The faith of a mustard seed,
The patience of eternity,
The depth of a family need,
Then God combined these qualities,
When there was nothing more to add,
He knew His masterpiece was complete,
And so, He called it ... Dad

A HANDSOME GIFT FOR DAD

By Andrew Salata, Social Security Public Affairs

Father's Day is right around the corner. Perhaps you'll give Dad the usual gift: a necktie, shaving set, leather wallet, or new fishing lure. But there's something he may appreciate even more. People all over the country are helping their dads save nearly $4,000 a year on the cost of prescription drugs. You can help your dad too — and it won't cost you a dime.

The high cost of prescription medication can be a burden on fathers (or anyone) who have limited income and resources. But there is Extra Help — available through Social Security — that could pay part of his monthly premiums, annual deductibles, and prescription co-payments. That Extra Help is worth an average of almost $4,000 a year.

To figure out whether your father is eligible, Social Security needs to know his income and the value of his savings, investments, and real estate (other than the home he lives in). To qualify for the Extra Help, he must be enrolled in Medicare and have.

- Annual income limited to $16,335 for an individual or $22,065 for a married couple living together. Even if his income is higher, he still may be able to get some help with monthly premiums, annual deductibles, and prescription co-payments. Some examples where income may be higher include if he or his spouse:

- Support other family members who live with them;
- Have earnings from work; or
- Live in Alaska or Hawaii; and

- Resources limited to $12,640 for an individual or $25,260 for a married couple living together. Resources include such things as bank accounts, stocks, and bonds. We do not count his house and car as resources.

Social Security has an easy-to-use online application that you can help complete for your dad. You can find it at www.socialsecurity.gov. Just select the link on the left of the page that says, "Get extra help with Medicare prescription drug costs." To apply by phone or have an application mailed to you, call Social Security at 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778) and ask for the Application for Help with Medicare Prescription Drug Plan Costs (SSA-1020). Or go to the nearest Social Security office.

To learn more about the Medicare prescription drug plans and special enrollment periods, visit www.medicare.gov or call 1-800-MEDICARE (1-800-633-4227; TTY 1-877-486-2048). Of course, the Extra Help is not just for fathers. Anyone who is entitled to Medicare and has limited income and resources may be eligible.

On this Memorial Day, we join our community and the nation in honoring all service men and women who sacrificed their lives to preserve our freedom.

FOUR GENERATIONS OF THE HABEN FAMILY AND STAFF DECORATE VETERANS GRAVES AT LOCAL CEMETERIES.

Four generations of the Haben Family and the staff of Haben Funeral Home have been decorating the graves of war veterans buried at the three church-based cemeteries in Skokie for many years. Over 500 flags are placed on the graves of our war veterans each Memorial Day weekend. The flags are provided by Skokie Post No. 320 The American Legion. The manpower is provided by John Haben, a third-generation funeral director at Haben Funeral Home & Crematory, his family and staff. Veterans records have been kept by the funeral home for over 85 years. Ray Haben, founder of Haben Funeral Home began the volunteer project many years ago. He served in the US Army during WW I, was a longtime member of Skokie Post No. 320 The American Legion, the Skokie Valley Post No. 3854 Veterans of Foreign Wars and a past member and Past Commander of the Morton Grove Post No. 134 The American Legion. Bill Haben served in the US Army during the Korean War and was also a member of the Skokie American Legion Post and Skokie Valley V.F.W. Gary J. Haben is the third generation of the Haben family serving in the United States military during wartime and is currently a Captain in the US Navy. "It's an honor to recognize our past military heroes who so selflessly served our country for the preservation of our freedom. We graciously dedicate our time to remember these courageous men and women", says John Haben. Those families who would like a flag to decorate a grave of a veteran that happens to be buried in another cemetery may pick up a flag from Haben Funeral Home, 8057 Niles Center Rd., Skokie.

McAuliffe Passes Veterans Resolutions

In honor of veterans and current military members, State Representative Michael McAuliffe (R-Chicago) recently passed two resolutions out of the Illinois House of Representatives calling for two roads to be designated in memory of veterans.

"Designating these roadways for veterans and current military men and women is a way to recognize them for their dedication, service and sacrifice for our country. These men and women fought for the very freedoms that we sometimes take for granted and I hope the dedication will serve as a small thank you to them," said McAuliffe who serves as chairman of the Veterans Affairs Committee.

House Resolution 154 designates the segment of U.S. Route 62 that touches the southern tip of the State of Illinois as the "National Veterans Highway."

House Resolution 155 designates the segment of U.S. Route 20 that crosses the State of Illinois as the "General U.S. Grant Memorial Highway of Fallen Heroes."

Both resolutions encourage the other states along the routes to adopt similar measures.

Rep. McAuliffe can be reached at his district office located at 6650 N. Northwest Hwy., Chicago, or by calling (773) 792-0749.

Fleetwood-Jourdain Theatre Announces Summer 2011 Season

Five Guys Named Moe and From The Mississippi Delta will be Fleetwood-Jourdain Theatre's mainstage productions in June and July, followed by three dramatic readings in August. All shows will be performed at the Theatre at Noyes Cultural Arts Center, 927 Noyes St., Evanston.

The 2011 season kicks off with Five Guys Named Moe. This Tony-nominated musical features the whimsical hit songs of Louis Jordan, one of the most beloved songwriting talents of the Twentieth Century. Jordan, a great composer and saxophonist, had more than 50 top-ten singles on the rhythm and blues charts. He brought a popular new slant to jazz that paved the way for the rock 'n' roll of the '50s. This show inspires the audience to laugh and shout; they may even dance in the aisles! Five Guys Named Moe will be presented at 7:00 p.m. on Saturdays and at 3:00 p.m. on Sundays, June 11 through June 26.

The musical director for Five Guys Named Moe is Tim Lenihan; the choreographer is Sean Blake. It will be directed by Tim Rhoze, Fleetwood-Jourdain Theatre's Artistic Director; Rhoze also will serve as set designer and costume designer. Allie Miller is stage manager. The cast is Alexander Brown (Little Moe); Andrew White Jr. (Big Moe); George Hull (Eat Moe); Kappuchino (Four-Eyed Moe); James Perrin (No Moe) and Gerald Wilson (No Max).

In July, Fleetwood-Jourdain Theatre presents From the Mississippi Delta, an autobiographical work by Dr. Endesha Ida Mae Holland. The play traces her journey through poverty and abuse in the Jim Crow South, her role as an activist in the civil rights movement, academic achievement and triumph as a Pulitzer Prize-nominated playwright. This story of courage will be portrayed by three dynamic actresses playing all the characters – black and white, young and old, men and women – who will make her world come alive in an eloquently potent and impassioned journey filled with story and song.

From the Mississippi Delta will be directed by Tim Rhoze and presented at 7:00 p.m. on Saturdays and 3:00 p.m. on Sundays, July 9 through July 24. Tickets for both mainstage productions are $10 in advance or at the door.

The late-summer Dramatic Reading Series returns this year with one play featured per weekend at 7:00 p.m. on Saturday and 3:00 p.m. on Sunday at The Theatre at the Noyes Cultural Arts Center.

Merc'y Rising by Gloria Bond Clunie will be read on August 6 and 7; Selecting Memories by Tania Richard will be read on August 13 and 14; and Heat by Marsha Estell will be read on August 20 and 21. Admission is $5.00 in advance or at the door.

Fleetwood-Jourdain Theatre is a City of Evanston-supported program. Its mission is to present powerful, thought provoking, community-centered theater arts programming with a commitment to diversity and creative excellence. For more information, call (847) 448-8254 or (847) 448-8260.

“A Theater Review”

American Theatre Company, 1909 West Byron Ave
Chicago, Illinois

Reviewed by Richard Allen Eisenhardt

“The original Grease” by Jim Jacobs and the late Warren Casey is closing out the 2010-2011 season for the American Theatre Company.

For this show the artistic director P. J. Paparelli has the perfect cast for the show with Jim Corti in charge of the choreography which he does so well with the musical direction of Roberta Duchak and an orchestra led by Malcolm Ruhl.

What makes this show different from Broadway, the movie and regional theatres is the language has been changed and while many songs are the same, some of the original songs that were cut out are left in for this “original” version. I remember in 1971 it opened in a garage that was rented out by Kingston Mines and sitting on the floor to watch it.

The original runs two hours and forty five minutes with intermission.

Adrian Aguilar as Danny Zuko is perfect and so are the other Burger Palace Boys – Knickie, Doody, Roger, Sonny – Miller played by Tony Clarno, Bubba Weiler, Rob Colletti, Patrick DeNicola and Tyler Ravelson.

The Pink Ladies are the fiery Jessica Diaz as Rizzo; Jessie Fisher as Frenchy; Carol Rose as Marty, Sadieh Rifal as Jan and a beautiful newcomer to me Kelly David Wilson as Sandy, the girl Danny meets at the beach during the summer. Sparks fly when they meet at Rydell High.

Peggy Roeder as Ms. Lynch is acted to perfection and in the original she has one song which was omitted from the Broadway, movie and regional productions.

Veteran actors Michael Accardo and Tom Lally all play a variety of characters.

Adrian Aguilar is an established performer and one you’ll see a lot on Chicagostages.

Kelly Davis Wilson is new and without a doubt you should be seeing and hearing a lot from her. Diaz is another that falls into that category.

Another bright newcomer who has a great future and an excellent singing voice is Bryan Conner as Johnny Casino and Teen Angel. I look forward to seeing him progress to leading roles in more shows.

The five musicians play favorites from the show such as “Look At Me, I’m Sandra Dee,” to “Grease Lightning” to those from the original “In My Day,” “Kiss It,” to “All Choked Up.”

Be forewarned there is no nudity but you’ll see the men in their jockey shorts on occasion and the girls in bras and you’ll hear the F___ word but that is how some teenagers talk. I don’t talk that way but I wasn’t offended.

It’s high voltage entertainment and worth a trip down memory land to revisit teenage life in the 1960’s.

“The Original Grease” runs through June 26th. For performance days – show times – reservations, call 773-409-4125. Tickets are $45 - $50.

-Four Stars-

For the 2011-2012 season, The American Theatre will be doing: “The Amish Project” opening in September; a holiday revival of “It’s a Wonderful Life: The Radio Play” in November, then in January it will be “K2,” after which will be the world premiere of “Escape,” in March and will conclude their 27th season in May with a co-production of “Rent” with the About Face Theatre.

Ding Dong AVON’s Calling...Your little Beauty Tip Corner...

Welcome to your second issue of Ding Dong AVON’s Calling...Your little Beauty Tip Corner... Well it looks like warm weather is finally upon us and I am so very excited to be able to take my two boys out to enjoy the weather. This weather really reminds me of when I was younger and I would always get sunburn. It just seemed like the sunscreen was constantly washing, rubbing, or sweating off. This month’s issue will provide you with some helpful tips to prepare for summer and to help prevent sunburn, skin damage and potential signs of aging.

Did you know that skin damage builds up with every exposure to the sun, even if it is a cloudy day? There are three types of Ultra Violet (UV) Radiation that the sun emits into the atmosphere. The first type is UVA, which are the long wavelengths that are responsible for aging of the skin and accounts for 95% of the UV radiation that reaches the Earth’s Surface. They can penetrate deeper into the skin and they can damage connective tissue at deep levels, even if the skin’s surface feels cool. The second type is UVB, which are the medium wavelengths that are known to cause sunburn as well as most skin cancers. All sunscreens protect against UVB rays, but just recently some sunscreens help to protect against UVA rays. The third type is UVC, which are the short wavelength and these are actually the most damaging rays. These rays are completely filtered by the Earth’s Atmosphere and do not reach the Earth’s surface.

This month’s beauty tip: Sun Damage Protection

- It is important to properly apply your sunscreen for the most effectiveness against the harmful UVA and UVB rays. Sunscreen should be applied in an adequate amount, ensuring total coverage of exposed skin.

- If sunscreen is washed off, rubbed off, or sweated off, the sunscreen must be re-applied promptly.

- An easy way to figure out how often you should reapply your sunscreen is to take the SPF of your sunscreen and to times it by ten. For example: SPF 15 X 10, needs to be reapplied approximately every 150 minutes with perfect conditions.

Just in time for Summer: Avon is introducing ANEW Solar Advance

This is the first sunscreen in the ANEW skincare line. ANEW Solar Advance has broad-spectrum UVA/UVB protection. It is lightweight, quick absorbing and VERY water resistant. ANEW Solar Advance not only protects skin from the harmful rays, sunburn, or aging, but it also helps to reduce the look of wrinkles and sunspots/dyschromias because it is formulated with Repair-Shield.

For your sun protection needs and for all your other beauty needs, please call me. If your looking to make extra money for your family, I am always looking for new people to join my team!

The Impact of Dying Without an Estate Plan

Chester M. Przybylo

Most of us expect that tomorrow will be another day like any other. But, as Euripides said, “no one can confidently say that he will still be living tomorrow.” In fact thousands of people die in the United States every single day. Some of them die of long-term illnesses. But, many of them die unexpectedly from accidents, heart attacks, and other tragedies.

Let’s look at what would happen if you died without planning in advance. First, if your death were preceded by a period of incapacity, your family might not be able to access funds that were needed during your illness. Without a Durable Power of Attorney for Property, financial institutions and other companies and organizations (Social Security Administration, utility companies, etc.) will not speak with anyone trying to assist you. Next, if you had not legally expressed your wishes with regard to your end-of-life care, your family might not be able to carry out your wishes. A Health Care Power of Attorney, Advance Health Care Directive, Health Care Proxy or Living Will would be needed to empower the person whom you designate to assist you.

After your death, the probate court would appoint an executor or administrator for your assets. In some states this can be a time-consuming and expensive process. Often, this process can be made less burdensome if you had planned with a Trust. But, in the absence of planning, there are no legal instructions with regard to the disposition of your assets. In other words, you were “intestate.”

When you die intestate, the distribution of your assets is set by a pre-determined list for intestate succession that varies from state to state. Typically, it is some combination of your spouse, descendants, and family of origin. But, without a valid Will, you do not get to specify who gets how much. You have to rely on what your state has set as the default for distribution. This may be far from what you have in mind. For example, if you have an unmarried partner, he or she would get nothing.

Even more importantly, without a Will, you would have no input into who will raise your minor children or provide assistance for an adult child with special needs. State law and the judge will determine that for you. Of course, the judge would not be privy to your experiences and may make a different decision without the benefit of your guidance.

Unfortunately, the question is not if you will die, but when will you die. When you die, you can leave a plan to achieve your goals and care for your family or you can leave it to chance. Your family and your hard-earned assets are too important to pass without your direction. Contact a qualified estate planning attorney today. They can prepare a plan for you which achieves your goals of passing your assets to whom you wish and make sure that your selection of guardians for your children are heard by the court. The planning can even help minimize estate taxes.

APhA Encourages Seniors to Connect with Their Pharmacist to Increase Wellness and Medication Knowledge

During Older Americans Month, the American Pharmacists Association (APhA) encourages America’s seniors to connect with their pharmacist to gain better knowledge of the medications they are taking and available wellness opportunities. As the most accessible health care provider and the medication experts, pharmacists are ready to discuss many of the issues that arise due to medications and age.

Thanks in part to advances in health care, education, technology and financial stability over the last several decades, seniors are living longer and are more committed to better standards of living, increased lifestyle choices and more involvement in decision making – from the community level to their personal health care. Your pharmacist can help sort out any confusion you may have about the medications you are taking, answer questions and assist in better decision making. This relationship can provide you with better control over your medications and can ultimately result in fewer side effects and interactions, resulting in a better quality of living. The pharmacist is also a great resource for care-givers and family members who may have questions about the medications a relative or person in their care may be taking.

Talk with your pharmacist today about the many ways they can help you understand your medications and improve your health and lifestyle. Some discussion topics may include:

- Understanding your medications, how to correctly take them, what they do and why you are taking them.
- Understanding brand vs. generic prescription medications, as well as over-the-counter (OTC) and herbal supplements and how they may interact with one another.
- Reading a label correctly, including warnings and dosing information.
- Determining whether an OTC medication or herbal supplement is the right choice, as side effects and interactions may increase with age.
- Over-coming loss of appetite, dry-mouth, sleeplessness or other dangerous age-related medication side-effects.
- Taking medication at the appropriate time throughout the day for your schedule and that medication’s known side-effects.
- Addressing problems with swallowing and pill size.
- Saving money at the pharmacy, including opportunities through patient assistance programs.
- Reviewing your total medication history, called a “medication check-up,” including all prescription and OTC medications, as well as herbal supplements. This will help determine if you are on the correct medication(s) for your condition(s), if any of your medications are interacting or whether there is a better medication for your schedule or with fewer side effects.
- Providing many of the vaccinations you may need and were not aware of.
- Various screenings including blood pressure, cholesterol, blood glucose and osteoporosis.
- Motivational counseling for a healthy lifestyle, including smoking cessation and managing disease.

Pharmacists work as a team with doctors and other health care providers to optimize care, improve medication use and to prevent disease. To achieve the best outcomes for their condition, patients should maintain regular visits with all of their health care providers. APhA encourages consumers to fill all their prescriptions with one pharmacy, get to know their pharmacist on a first name basis, carry an up-date medication and vaccination list and share all medical information with each of their health care providers.

The other Guerin Prep artists are Seniors Adriana Bialas, Joe Garstki, Danielle Golab, Anna Gurgul, Anna Kross, Eduardo Linares, Gianna Marzec, Rudy Melgar, Samantha Mistretta, Grace Pflaumer, Jake Pielli, Coraima Rosario, Rolando Rodriguez, Derek Rogoz, Rhiannon Taylor, Lauren Tisza, Victoria Williamson and Bryan Worman, all of Chicago and Mia Pamiyas of Melrose Park.

Little Kids Rock's Chicago Chapter Hosts Second Annual District-wide Jam Summit

Students from five Chicago Public Schools showcased music skills

Schools from across the Chicago Public School district that participate in the Little Kids Rock music program came together on Wednesday, May 11th to showcase their musical skills in the second annual Chicago City Jam summit, sponsored by Little Kids Rock.

Little Kids Rock is a nonprofit that transforms children's lives by restoring and revitalizing music education in public schools in Chicago and 25 other cities nationwide. More than 6,850 students from Chicago and more than 74,000 nationwide benefit from Little Kids Rock, which trains teachers in its innovative curriculum and donates all the instruments and resources necessary to run modern music programs in schools which are threatened by budget cuts.

"Being a fine arts school, we perform regularly throughout the year at our school," says Jam Summit organizer and LKR Ambassador, Bernardo Medina. "But when it comes to the LKR City Jam, it's like the Super Bowl for the students! Without a doubt the biggest event of the year!"
