CITY SEEKS PROPOSALS TO ACTIVATE NEIGHBORHOOD PLAZAS

Plan to Enliven Public Spaces to Reflect the Unique and Dynamic Cultures of Chicago’s Communities

The Chicago Department of Transportation (CDOT) announced today that it is seeking proposals to improve and enliven public plazas to become active spaces that reflect the unique and dynamic cultures of Chicago’s neighborhoods.

“One of Mayor Rahm Emanuel’s strategies for improving Chicago’s neighborhoods is to create public spaces that cultivate community activities and cultural events in Chicago’s neighborhoods through placemaking,” said CDOT Commissioner Gabe Klein. “We are seeking creative proposals that demonstrate innovative ways to program and enliven these public spaces.”

Chicago currently owns nearly 50 plazas, many of which are underutilized. They range in size from 200 to 14,000 square feet. The City intends that its plazas be beautified and activated to reflect the unique and dynamic cultures of the various neighborhoods.

The plan to activate these plazas also furthers the goals of the Chicago Cultural Plan. Released in October 2012 by Mayor Emanuel and the Department of Cultural Affairs and Special Events (DCASE), the Chicago Cultural Plan created a framework to guide the city’s future cultural and economic growth, and to further elevate the city as a global destination for creativity, innovation and excellence in the arts.

Through a Request for Proposals (RFP), CDOT is looking for innovative plans from entities with experience in placemaking, community engagement and programming, vendor selection and management, and experiential marketing to provide a unique solution for the City’s plazas.

Proposals must be received by CDOT no later than September 30, 2013 at 12 p.m. The RFP can be downloaded on CDOT’s website at www.chicagodot.org

Edison Park Restaurant Week

Edison Park is located on the far Northwest side of Chicago and in 2010 was named as part of the “20 Best Town and Neighborhoods in Chicago and the Suburbs” by Chicago Magazine. Edison Park is a tight-based community with a booming business district including nine restaurants within blocks of each other.

The Edison Park Chamber of Commerce in partnership with YELP and our Edison Park restaurants is offering a fantastic opportunity to get a taste of fine dining without breaking the bank: EDISON PARK RESTAURANT WEEK (September 23-29)! The nine participating restaurants are Café Touche, Zia’s Trattoria, Don Juan’s, Nonno Pino’s, The Curragh Irish Pub and Restaurant, Elliott’s Seafood Grille & Chop House, The Mecca Supper Club, Moretti’s, and The Snuggery. Each restaurant will offer a prix-fixed meal at various prices to fit everyone’s budget. All menus will include an appetizer, entrée, and dessert. Prices are per person. Beverages, tax, and tip are not included. Reservations are strongly encouraged for dinner.

Starting in 2008, Chicago Restaurant Week was created to help boost business at area restaurants in what is typically a slower time of the year. It was such a success the first go around that it’s now been turned into an annual event. In 2011, the Edison Park Chamber of Commerce, decided to host their own version of this annual Chicago event. As many of the restaurants normally have entrée selections well into the $20 range, this provides a unique opportunity to sample some great cuisine and get a nice bottle of wine and spend less than $100 for an enjoyable dinner for two. For more information visit our websites at www.eprrestaurantweek.com, www.edisonpark.com, email info@edisonpark.com, or call (773) 631-0063.

Presence Our Lady of the Resurrection Medical Center and Presence Resurrection Medical Center Receive American Heart Association Accreditation for Acute Cardiac Care

Presence Our Lady of the Resurrection Medical Center and Presence Resurrection Medical Center have achieved the American Heart Association's Mission: Lifeline® Bronze Receiving Award. The award recognizes hospitals across the nation for excellence in quality care of STEMI heart attack patients based on data submitted to the ACTION Registry-Get with the Guidelines.

In a STEMI, the more severe type of heart attack, the coronary artery is completely blocked off by the blood clot, and as a result, virtually all the heart muscle being supplied by the affected artery starts to die.

"We are thoroughly committed to providing our patients the highest quality cardiac care centered on current scientific research," said David Bordo, M.D., Chief Medical Officer, Presence Our Lady of the Resurrection Medical Center and Presence Resurrection Medical Center. "The American Heart Association's Mission: Lifeline® Bronze Receiving Award highlights our accomplishments and will improve the overall treatment and care for our patients."

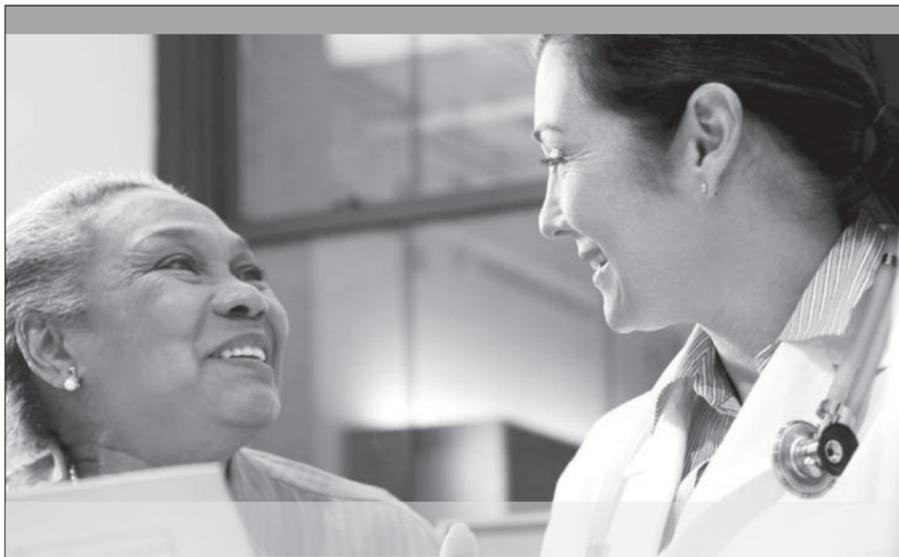

The American Heart Association's overall goal for Mission: Lifeline® Heart Attack Receiving Center Accreditation is to significantly reduce cardiac death in patients by teaching the public to recognize and react to early symptoms of a heart attack, reduce the time it takes to receive life-saving treatment, and increase the accuracy and effectiveness of treatment administered.

A special presentation will be made to a gentleman who has organized a Christmas party for close to 100 underprivileged children every year for the past 50 years. About ten of these children will be on stage, singing along with the Orchestra, and Santa will hand out gifts to them. The time will be from 2:00 to 4:00 pm, but this is subject to change and will be confirmed later on. "Tony" Kawalkowski not only leads the Orchestra, but is a virtuoso violinist. We will ask him to bring his precious instrument to our September 26 meeting and play something for us. Hearing is believing!

Contact Hilda or Judy at: 773-631-4633 or info@norwoodparkhistoricalsociety.org.

Interested homeowners should fall within the following geographic boundaries in order to be considered: Nagle Avenue on the east, Harlem Avenue on the West, the Kennedy Expressway on the south, and Devon Avenue on the north. Homes should have one or more of the following attributes in order to be considered:

- Historic, architectural, or neighborhood significance
- Recent renovations or additions
- Large enough in size to accommodate several visitors at once inside the house (greeters limit guests to 25 to 50 people at a time, depending on the home's size)
- Availability Saturday, Dec. 7, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Holiday House Tour benefits homeowners and the community by increasing awareness of Norwood Park, and typically contributes to residential sales. It may also influence more homeowners to renovate and restore their older houses.

Guests attending the Holiday House Tour are very respectful, and take a genuine interest in the interiors and exteriors of the beautiful homes in Chicago's Norwood Park neighborhood. Prior participants have found the experience to be very positive. As a thank-you for participating in the Holiday House Tour, homeowners receive a one-year membership to the Norwood Park Historical Society, a free tour of all other homes on the walk, and an invitation to the exclusive Holiday House Tour party.

The Norwood Park Historical Society, a not-for-profit organization, owns and is headquartered in the Noble-Seymour-Crippen House, the oldest surviving house in Chicago (1833). This is the regional premiere. It opened in New York and won a Pulitzer Prize and a Tony Award. It is now touring. "Normal" stars Jeff-nominated actress Susie McMonagle as Diana and offers audiences a riveting story that offers audiences thirty pop/rock songs that unearth skeletons of the past. Diana is a housewife who suffers bipolar disorder.

The show is in the hands of the theatre's artistic director William Osetek, who handles the cast and direction in award-winning style.

The cast for the show includes Rod Thomas as Dan. Others in the show include Skyler Adams as Henry, Callie Johnson as Natalie, Colte Julian as Dr. Finne/Madden, and Josh Tolle as Gabe.

Community Photo Exhibit - Skokie Through the Lens 2014

A lot happens in Skokie throughout the course of the year: seasons change, school begins and ends, neighbors gather for block parties, snowmen are built and ultimately melt, kids trick-or-treat, people walk their dogs, eat ice cream, shop in local stores and much more. The Skokie Fine Arts Commission and Skokie Photographic Society wish to capture all these happenings through a new community photo exhibit entitled Skokie through the Lens. If you live, work or play in Skokie, this exhibit is a chance to celebrate the uniqueness of the community by capturing photos that reflect the colorful character of everyday life in the Village. Images can reflect anything seen throughout a year in Skokie from kids playing in the many beautiful parks, fall leaves at the sculpture park, spring flowers in a neighbor's garden... let your creative energy flow. The exhibit will be displayed at various locations in Skokie in fall 2014.

Submission Guidelines

This exhibition is for amateur photographers of all ages who live, work or play in Skokie. Phoneography/Instagram images are welcomed. Each individual may submit up to three images of approximately one to eight megabytes each. Label digital files as such: firstname_lastname_01, 02 or 03 and email them to info@skokie.org with the subject line "Skokie through the Lens Entry." Please include the application form which can be found at www.skokie.org/FineArtsCommission.cfm. As the Fine Arts Commission wishes to capture images of Skokie throughout all four seasons, the deadline to submit photos is July 31, 2014; however, submissions are welcomed any time until then. A slideshow of approved submitted images will be on display on the Village's website at www.skokie.org throughout the year.

A panel will select the top three photos in two categories (student and adult) for special recognition. The panel will also select approximately 30 to 50 images to be exhibited in print format.

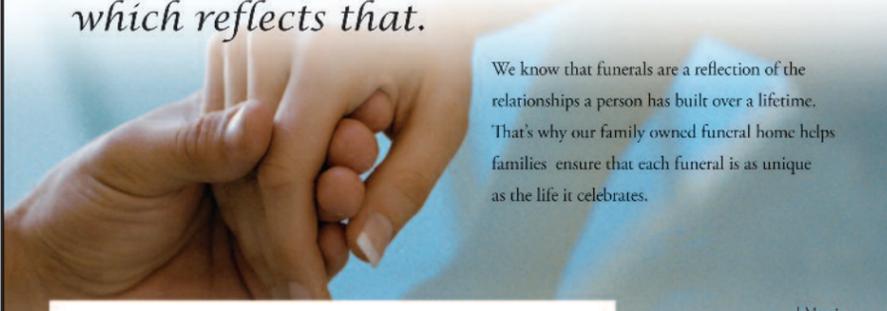

For more information please contact Nick Wyatt, Fine Arts Commission Staff Liaison, at 847/933-8283 or at nicholas.wyatt@skokie.org.

Want Privacy? Use a Trust

Chester M. Przybylo

Do you like your nosy neighbors keeping tabs of your business? Do you want them knowing how much money you left to your kids? Do you want Aunt Fern knowing that you left money to your favorite uncle but not to her? If you leave only a will, it will all be a matter of public record. Your neighbors, your relatives, your co-workers, telemarketers, and even more nefarious individuals can just walk right into your local court house and ask to see your file after you have died. By doing so they can see your will and all the wishes you have expressed in it. In addition, in most states, all the assets controlled by the will must be inventoried and set forth in the file.

A better alternative is to leave your assets in a trust.

The assets in the trust are not technically titled in your individual name and avoid probate and, therefore, the public scrutiny of prying eyes.

Here are some examples of what you can discover just from a trip to the court house, all of it public information:

- Musician Jerry Garcia left his guitars to their maker, Douglas Erwin. He left 10% of his estate to his brother, Clifford. The assets he left to his daughters were in trust until they reached age 21.
- Former Supreme Court Chief Justice Warren Burger left a short handwritten will that left 1/3 to his daughter and 2/3 to his son.
- Benjamin Franklin left his lands in Nova Scotia to his son and his houses in Philadelphia to his daughter. He gave his picture of the King of France to his daughter, Sarah, asking that she not remove the jewels from the frame. He left money to facilitate the freeing of his son-in-law's slave.
- Marilyn Monroe left her clothing and personal effects and a significant portion of her estate to Lee Strasberg, the founder of the famous acting school in Hollywood.
- President Calvin Coolidge disinherited his son.
- John F. Kennedy, Jr. gave the carved whale ivory scrimshaw set he inherited from his father to his nephew, John Schlossberg.
- David Packard, co-founder of Hewlett-Packard, left almost everything he had left at his death to a charitable foundation.
- President Richard Nixon left his "personal diaries" including tapes, notes, etc., to his daughters. If his daughters did not survive him, he left explicit instructions that everything should be destroyed.

There are many reasons to keep your wishes and your affairs private after your death. Information about your wealth and to whom you are leaving it could leave the recipients vulnerable to unscrupulous people, from benign salespeople trying to sell a product to con artists trying to prey on the grieving. Revelations of whom you have chosen to benefit may offend others who were not preferred.

Your wishes do not have to become common knowledge. An estate planning attorney can help you keep your private life just that: private.

-Chester M. Przybylo has been elected to the Board of Governors of the prestigious American Academy of Estate Planning Attorneys and has been engaged in the practice of law for the last 40 years. To register for an upcoming seminar, call the 24 hour reservation hotline at 1-800-638-7878 or register online at www.PlanOurEstate.com.

LECTURE:

A LOOK AT ZOOK

with author Betty Green

DATE: Sat., Sept. 21, 2013 TIME: 11:00 am

R. Harold Zook, was an architect who worked mainly during the great Depression and World War II. Found mainly in the Chicago suburbs of Hinsdale and Park Ridge, his work displayed whimsy, spirituality and romanticism. Some of his quality work can also still be seen in Norwood Park where he designed the Norwood Park Field house and the Schwan apartment building along with other buildings that displayed character and charm.

Two of his largest commissions however, were in Park Ridge where he designed the Pickwick building and Maine East High School along with his partner William McCaughey. Details by Alphonso Iannelli are featured in each of these buildings as well. Hope you will come to hear about the work of this inspired architect.

A book signing of "A Look at R. Harold Zook's Unique Architecture" by author, Betty Green will follow.

Village Cooking Corner

In October of last year, my husband Frank and I were assigned to serve refreshments to the members of the Austrian Mixed Chorus after the rehearsal. I started going through my cake file to determine what I could bake and came across a leaflet from the Cranberry Festival which took place in September of 1991 in Warrens, Wisconsin. There I found a recipe for MOIST CRANBERRY BREAD, and after reading the list of ingredients and preparation, I decided to give it a try, and it turned out great. Friends have already asked me for the recipe, so I would like to share it with our readers as well.

MOIST CRANBERRY BREAD

Ingredients: 2 cups flour, ¾ tsp. salt, ½ tsp. cinnamon, 1-¼ tsp. baking soda, ½ tsp. baking powder, ¾ cup sugar, 2 tbsp. melted shortening or oil, 1 beaten egg, 1/3 cup orange juice, ¼ tsp. lemon juice and one 1-lb. can of whole cranberry sauce. Shake the can well before opening it.

Method: Mix together in order given. Put into two small or one large loaf pan (no dimensions were given) that has been greased or sprayed with PAM or other no-stick spray. Let stand for 20 minutes before baking in a pre-heated 350 degree oven for 45 minutes. I followed the directions to the letter except I did not add the ¼ tsp. lemon juice. Since this is a small batch, I used my 10-¾" x 7" aluminum baking pan. I baked the bread in the morning and allowed it to cool until a couple of hours before going to the rehearsal, then cut it into about 1-½" squares. I found them to be very tasty.

Fall Beautiful Fall - Time To Prepare For Winter

By: Nick Urhausen, Urhausen Greenhouses

The chill of the first cool nights of fall serves as a warning that the growing season is coming to an end. By all means, enjoy your flowers for as long as the weather permits. We can even stubbornly try to protect and cover animals from the onset of cooler temperatures. However, hard frosts will eventually take their toll. At this time I strongly urge gardeners to clean up all dead flowers and vegetable plants. This is the first step towards having a great garden next year.

Then I would suggest adding a two to three inch layer of an organic material to the soil. If you have a compost pile, this would be a good time to work in this material.

Another option is to work the leaves from your yard into the soil. Adding these materials will have several benefits. First, the organic matter will have a chance to further decompose during the long, wet fall and winter. As the organic material naturally breaks down, this will add nutrients to the soil for next years plants.

Second, really digging and working up the soil in the fall aerates and loosens it and prevents the ground from becoming too hard. This is very important because a loose soil allows plants to develop healthy roots systems.

None of this work is very glamorous, however conditioning and preparing soil is one of the most important keys to having success as a gardener. Next spring your flower and vegetable plants will benefit from growing in a nutrient rich, loose soil.
