Pappas Announces New Programs:

• Pay online for free • Download your bill • Get your bill by email

Starting today, property owners who use their bank accounts to pay their tax bills online will no longer have to pay a $1 fee, a change designed to boost the growing number of taxpayers who make electronic payments, Cook County Treasurer Maria Pappas said.

Removing the $1 fee is just one feature Pappas is offering to make paying property taxes more convenient:

• To pay over the Internet for free, visit cookcountytreasurer.com and select "Make an Online Payment."

• To receive future tax bills by email, select "eBilling." You will no longer receive your bill by mail.

• To obtain a copy of your tax bill, select "Download Your Bill." That bill can be printed and used to pay by mail or in person.

Online payments have soared from about 17,000 in 2001 to more than 485,000 in 2016. For property owners paying their taxes using a credit card, third-party processing fees apply.

Property Tax Bills are due March 1, 2018.

Mayor Emanuel And Chicago Public Library Announce Homework Help Is The Largest And Most Comprehensive Program In The Nation

Mayor Rahm Emanuel and Chicago Public Library Commissioner Brian Bannon today announced that Homework Help is the largest and most comprehensive program of its kind in the nation. CPL locations citywide offer the free, drop-in Teacher in the Library program for school aged kids. Live online tutoring is available on CPL's website through Brainfuse.

"Homework Help makes it possible for Chicago students to continue learning, even after the school bell rings," said Mayor Emanuel. "With a record number of students accessing these resources, it is clear that investing in this program is investing in our students and in the future of our city.

During the 2016-2017 school year, nearly 100,000 Homework Help sessions supported students' out-of-school time learning. This represents a 68 percent increase in four years, when the program was expanded to offer Teacher in Library at all 80 CPL branches and online tutoring was launched through Brainfuse.

"Certified teachers and trained homework helpers support our city's kids by working through their homework assignments, building confidence and reinforcing classroom concepts," said Commissioner

Chicago Riverwalk And Chinatown Branch Library Receive Prestigious National Honor

Mayor Rahm Emanuel today announced the Chicago Riverwalk and Chinatown branch of the Chicago Public Library (CPL) have received the Institute Honor Awards from the American Institute of Architects (AIA). The award is the profession's highest recognition and the latest honor for the two innovative projects.

"Chicago is known across the globe for our countless contributions to the fields of architecture and design, and today Chicago is writing the next chapter in that remarkable legacy," said Mayor Rahm Emanuel. "The Riverwalk and Chinatown Branch Library are architecturally significant, transformative projects that will be shared by generations of Chicagoans and visitors to our great city. I want to congratulate Ross Barney Architects, Sasaki and Skidmore, Owings & Merrill LLP for this prestigious and well-deserved recognition."

The Chicago Riverwalk serves as a 1.25-mile promenade through the heart of the City. The technically challenging project involved extending the south bank of the Chicago River out by 25 feet. The ecologically sensitive design aids in improving water quality, enabling people to interact with the river as they have never been able to before. The three newest sections, or "rooms," of the Riverwalk were completed in 2016 and include:

The 16,000-square-foot, two-story Chinatown Branch opened August 29, 2015 with a partially covered "living" roof, Feng shui-influenced interior design and expansive views of the city. The branch serves as a cultural and information center for those who seek information about the Chinatown community and Chinese culture. It features "Universal Transverse Immigration Proclamation," a mural by CJ Hungerman representing Chinatown's development-past, present and future-and designed in conversation with residents of the Chinatown community.

The branch also includes CPL's signature media and lab space for teens, YOUmedia, CyberNavigator computer tutoring, and an early learning play space for children. It serves the Chinatown, Armour Square, South Loop and Bridgeport neighborhoods and was designed by Skidmore, Owings & Merrill LLP.

Founded in 1857, The American Institute of Architects consistently works to create more valuable, healthy, secure, and sustainable buildings, neighborhoods, and communities. For more information visit www.AIA.org.

Bannon. "Our Homework Help program supports families as well, allowing parents from all backgrounds, native languages and abilities to get their child free homework help.'

Through Brainfuse, CPL provides one-on-one online tutoring seven days a week, between 2 p.m. and 11 p.m., for all students with a library card. This online homework service provides students tutoring, collaboration and study tools in math, science, social sciences, English, language arts and computer literacy. Assistance in these core subjects is available in English and Spanish, from early elementary through advanced college prep. The site also provides a Spanish language study center and ESL assistance, as well as test preparation tools for the ACT/SAT, GED and the USCIS citizenship test.

Parents and caregivers who have questions about their child's homework assignment welcome the option to get help in their neighborhood library or online until 11 pm.

CPL's Teacher in the Library program is privately funded with support from the Chicago Public Library Foundation. To learn more about Homework Help and other educational resources at the library, visit chipublib.org/HomeworkHelp.

The Birth of the Film Industry

The movie industry owes its start in the late 1890s to two Midwesterners, William Nicholas Selig and Chicagoan George K. Spoor. Selig created his studio, the Selig Polyscope Company, in 1896. Spoor was the founder of Essanay Studios 11 years later.

Established on a lot at Byron Street and Claremont Avenue, near present-day Revere Park, Selig Polyscope focused primarily on short films, though it later produced some longer features. Among its first productions was The Tramp and the Dog (1896), a short narrative comedy filmed in Chicago. The film was well received in local vaudeville houses and went on to greater success at showings in major cities. Future Selig productions also proved profitable. Selig is often credited as being the inventor of the cliffhanger, based on his 1913 film series, The Adventures of Kathlyn. The entrance to the condominium building on the northwest corner of Byron and Claremont (now called St. Ben's Lofts, 3900 N. Claremont Avenue, is still emblazoned with the "S" trademark of the Selig Polyscope Company, a reminder of Chicago's role in motion-picture history. Selig stopped producing movies in 1918. As is the case with most early movies, only a handful of prints of Selig's films have survived. Around 1906 Max Aronson, star of Thomas Edison's first feature, The Great Train Robbery, left Edison's New Jersey studio to join Selig in Chicago as an actor and director. Changing his name to Gilbert Anderson, Aronson later joined forces with Spoor at Essanay Studios. On the campus of St. Augustine College (the first bilingual college in Illinois)

is the former Essanay office site, 1345 W. Argyle Street. It is a landmark of early American film history and the "ESSANAY" name identification can still be seen above the building's entrance, which is now a Chicago landmark. From 1907-1917, Spoor, acclaimed as the "father of the motion picture industry," and his partner Gilbert M. "Bronco Billy" Anderson nurtured the likes of Charlie Chaplin, Harold Lloyd, Gloria Swanson, and other stars of the silent era. When the movie industry moved to California in the later 1910s, Spoor remained in Chicago to experiment with "natural vision" (widescreen) pictures and other innovations, while Anderson went to California to operate the west coast location near Los Ar geles. Spoor died in Chicago in 1953.

Other movie pioneers worked in Chicago during its filmmaking heyday, among them two African Americans: William Foster, founder of Foster Photoplay Company, the first African American film production company; and Illinois native Oscar Micheaux (1884-1951) of Micheaux Film & Book Company, which produced The Homesteader in 1919 and Within Our Gates in 1920. Micheaux, of downstate Metropolis, was the first African American to produce a feature-length film (1919) and a feature-length talkie (1931). In addition to being an independent filmmaker, he was an author. His works aimed to counter racism and raise consciousness in a segregated society. Foster Photoplay, founded in 1919, lasted only four years. Micheaux was more successful; he transferred his operations to New York shortly after establishing the company, closing his Chicago office in 1926.

Cook County Assessor's Office Mails Annual Senior and Senior Freeze Exemption Renewal Applications

Legislation Crafted By Assessor Berrios Results In Expanded Eligibility And Exemption Savings For Seniors This Year

Cook County Assessor Joseph Berrios' Office has mailed Senior and Senior Freeze Exemption renewal applications for Tax Year 2017. Legislation crafted by Berrios will result in additional savings for these exemptions that will appear as deductions on Second Installment Property Tax Bills mailed this coming summer.

Nearly 300,000 applications were mailed to seniors who received the exemptions last year. The application deadline is Wednesday, February 7th and state law requires annual renewal in order to continue to receive exemption savings.

The Senior Exemption application is part of a booklet sent to eligible seniors. The booklet also contains the separate, income-based Senior Freeze Exemption application.

"It may be a minor inconvenience to return the renewal applications, but it is even more important for seniors to receive their exemptions this year," Berrios said. "Seniors have worked hard their entire lives and are entitled to these money-saving exemptions. It is important they do not lose them, especially this year with the new law bringing additional savings."

To qualify for the Senior Citizen Exemption for Tax Year 2017, a taxpayer must have:

• been born prior to or in the year 1952

• owned the property during 2017 or have a lease or contract for 2017 which makes them responsible for the real estate taxes

• used the property as his or her principal place of residence in 2017

Please Note: The new law will increase savings this year for the Senior Exemption from $5,000 to $8,000 in Equalized Assessed Value (EAV). It is important to note that the exemption amount is not the dollar amount by which a tax bill is lowered. EAV is the partial value of a property to which tax rates are applied; it is this figure on which a tax bill is calculated. The Assessor does not set tax rates. To qualify for the Senior Freeze Exemption for Tax Year 2017, a taxpayer must have:

• been born prior to or in the year 1952

• a total household income of $65,000 or less for [income] Tax Year 2016

• owned the property or had a legal, equitable or leasehold interest in the property on January 1,

Phone For Legal Advice At No Cost

The Chicago Bar Association (CBA) Lawyer Referral Service hosts Call-A-Lawyer on the third Saturday of every month from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. Volunteer attorneys will give free legal advice over the phone to Chicagoland residents who call (312) 554-2001.

Attorneys will be available to answer general questions on a variety of legal issues including (but not limited to) bankruptcy, domestic relations, immigration, personal injury and Social Security. Callers can explain their situations to attorneys who will suggest self-help strategies to resolve their legal issues. If callers need further legal services, they will be advised to see their attorney or to contact the CBA Lawyer Referral Service.

The CBA Lawyer Referral Service is one of few bar associations in the country to meet the American Bar Association Standards for lawyer referral and approved to use its logo and slogan, "The Right Call for the Right LawyerTM." For referral to an experienced attorney, the public can contact the CBA Lawyer Referral Service at 312-554-2001 during business hours or through the Web site at www.chicagobar.org.

2016 and January 1, 2017

• used the property as his or her principal place of residence as of January 1, 2016 and January 1, 2017

• been liable for payment of 2016 and 2017 property taxes

Please Note: The new law expands Senior Freeze eligibility by increasing allowable total household income to $65,000, from the previous limit of $55,000. There is also a new minimum $2,000 EAV deduction for the Senior Freeze, which will help offset increases in assessed value and help ensure that more seniors benefit from the Senior Exemption.

"If you don't qualify for the Senior Freeze Exemption because you exceed the income level, this does not mean you will not be eligible for the Senior Exemption," Berrios explained. "The Senior Exemption has no income restrictions and I'm concerned that seniors might discard the entire booklet and not receive the Senior Exemption savings to which they are entitled.'

Seniors receiving the Senior Citizen Exemption automatically receive the Homeowner Exemption. Seniors receiving the Senior Freeze Exemption automatically receive both the Homeowner and Senior Citizen Exemptions.

Eligible seniors who have never applied for the Senior and/or Senior Freeze Exemptions in the past may visit the Assessor's web site at www.cookcountyassessor.com and download an application or contact the Assessor's Office at 312-443-7550 and request a form be mailed to them. Applications for the Homeowner Exemption are also available online.

Applications for additional exemptions administered by the Assessor's Office will be available within the next several weeks.

"Our office continues to reach out to Cook County seniors, visiting local communities to make them aware of the available exemptions and also help with the application process," Berrios said. "We made a record number of outreach appearances in 2017 and will work this year to provide local services to an even greater number of seniors. Our goal is to ensure they are receiving the most exemptions savings possible."

Free Clinic to Reduce Your Phone, Gas and Electricity Bill

The Skokie Telecommunications and Technology Advisory Commission with the support of the Consumer Affairs Commission and in conjunction with the Citizens Utility Board (CUB) is hosting a free consultation event to advise residents on reducing electric, natural gas and both landline and cell phone bills. To register, please leave a message at 1-877-782-7005 or email events@citizensutilityboard.org.

The event is scheduled for Tuesday, February 6, 2018 from 6 to 8 p.m. at Skokie Village Hall, 5127 Oakton Street.

"The key to saving money on your utility bills is simply to read them," CUB Executive Director David Kolata said. "At a CUB clinic you can sit down with an expert who can explain all the confusing charges, answer your questions, help you avoid scams, and give you ways to slash your costs. You can't find a free service like this anywhere else."

At CUB's clinic, consumers will get information on:

- How to spot unnecessary charges on natural gas, electric and phone bills.
- Energy efficiency programs and rebates that can help people cut their utility bills.

· ComEd's new digital electric meters and programs such as Peak Time Savings and Hourly Pricing that could save consumers money.

• Utility rates, and making the right choices in the electric and gas markets.

CUB services, including its toll-free Consumer Hotline, 1-800-669-5556. The low-cost Consumer's Choice local-calling plans, designed by CUB under a legal settlement with AT&T.

A representative from the Illinois Treasurer's iCash program will be present to help registrants see if the state has any unclaimed property they're entitled to: https://icash.illinoistreasurer.gov/

Participants should bring current copies of gas, electric and telephone bills for CUB to review. CUB is a non-profit, non-partisan organization dedicated to representing the rights of utility customers across the state of Illinois.

Crossing Delancey performs Feb 2 to Feb 18

By Wayne Mell, Artistic Director

At some point in our lives, we all have to make a choice. Do we follow the path laid out for us by others or do we break from tradition and go our own way? This is the choice that Isabella faces in Crossing Delancey, a sly romantic comedy by Susan Sandler.

Crossing Delancey has charmed audiences for decades as it explores the bonds of family and tradition; the culture clash of old East Side and new West Side; and the romantic benefits of a new hat. Isabelle Grossman is a young Jewish girl who is living the dream. She has a rent-controlled apartment in New York's upper West Side, a job at a prestigious independent bookstore, plenty of friends, and a handsome local author to dream about. None of this matters to her Bubbie, however, a strong-minded, fiercely loving, traditional Jewish grandmother, who worries about single Isabelle, living alone in a room, like a dog! Unbeknownst to Isabelle, Bubbie hires a marriage broker to save the day -and she is introduced to pleasant and unassuming Sam, who runs his own pickle stand on the Lower East Side. Isabelle does not believe she could have anything in common with a pickle man, but just as she seems to be getting the attention of Tyler Moss -- the highbrow writer after whom she has been hankering -- Isabelle is blindsided by Sam's subtle wit and wisdom. Can Sam persuade Isabelle to change her style, after all? Will Bubbie cleverly maneuver them together?

Bubbie & Izzie

Crossing Delancey was written by Susan Sandler. It was first produced in 1985. In 1998, Sandler turned her play into a critically-acclaimed movie that starred Amy Irving and David Hyde Pierce. Jewish stage actress Reizl Bozyk made her only film appearance as Bubbie, recreating the role she played on Broadway.

Crossing Delancey stars Chicago actress Daniella Rukin as Isabelle. With Kevin Costello, Nat Kier, Debra Rodkin, and Anita Silvert in the role of Bubbie. It is directed by Joseph Jefferson Award-winner Stephen M. Genovese.

Crossing Delancey runs February 2 to February 18, 2018. Fridays and Saturdays at 7:30 pm, Sundays at 2:00 pm, with a matinee on Wednesday, February 14 at 1:30 pm. Tickets are $34 general admission, $29 for seniors, and $24 for students and can be purchased online at SkokieTheatre.org or by calling 847-677-7761. And if you mention Our Village, we'll give you another $5 off your ticket.

What better way is there to spend Valentine's Day than watching a young couple fall in love? Note for the musically inclined: Skokie Idol 2018 is off and running. This year's contestants are Neil Arora, Michelle Bandura, Justyna Biala. Becca Blatt, Jamie Kimmel-Choldin, Charlie, Duggan, James Earl Jones II, Jordan Lancaster, Jessica Lenhardt, Rebecca Lorenz, Isabel Loza, Molly McDonagh, Athena Maliekkal, Isabella Reyes, Maya Roman, Matthew Schufreider, Barbara Smith, Talia Spector, Jaden Torres, Kristopher Valentin, Ella Walker, and Bob Weaver. Come vote for your favorites when the first weekly sing-off starts on Feb. 3 at noon. Admission is only $5 at the door.

The purpose of the University Guild is to bring to the membership the intellectual resources of the University, to promote the interests of the

National Wildlife Federation The Real Reason for Groundhog Day

Punxsutawney Phil, America's most famous weather forecaster, will have love, not weather, on his mind when he emerges from his hole on Feb. ruary 2. Researchers tracked 32 groundhogs for more than four years and concluded that the real reason for the early February appearance is a version of the dating game, groundhog style. Male groundhogs wake up after three months of hibernation to check out the available pool of ladies within their territory. They select a female with whom they spend the night, and this sleepover acts as a first date, allowing the groundhogs time to get to know each other before the official start of mating season the following month. During these meet and greet sessions, contact is confined to rubbing noses - there's no going "all the way." After scoping out two or three females, the male groundhog returns to his burrow to sleep again until March, dreaming of the hotties he has just met. When he awakes and revisits each of the females, the earlier slumber parties allow the woodchucks to skip the small talk and get right down to the business of breeding.

St Basil Greek Orthodox Parish Host Inaugural Blessing Of The Chicago River Service Celebrates Christ's Baptism In The River Jordan

On Sunday, January 7, 2018, at the Park Number 571 Boathouse along the Chicago River just outside Downtown Chicago, St Basil Greek Orthodox Church hosted the Inaugural Theophany/Epiphany Blessing of the Waters service on the Chicago River.

Outdoor Blessing of the Water services are spiritual important for Eastern Orthodox parishioners, but rare in this part of the world. While in the past outdoor Blessing of the Water services have been held within the City of Chicago, it has been over a decade since this yearly service has been held and the first time known to be held on the Chicago River.

The half-hour service was free and open to the public. The service ended with Father Dimitri Tobias immersing a gold cross in the Chicago River, symbolizing Jesus Christ's baptism in the River Jordan 2,000 years ago.

This past weekend parishioners of St George Greek Orthodox Parish of Des Moines, Iowa, and St John the Baptist Greek Orthodox Parish in Des Plaines, Illinois, celebrated Epiphany

Coming Together Presents Celebrating Muslim-American Cultures

SKOKIE & NILES TOWNSHIP, IL is one of the most diverse communities in the country, and for the past eight years the local group 'Coming Together' has celebrated the multitude of cultures that call Skokie and its neighboring communities of Morton Grove, Lincolnwood and Niles, home.

Supported by Niles Township Government and institutions throughout Skokie, Morton Grove, Lincolnwood and Niles, the goal of Coming Together is to study a different culture each year over a three month period, with an emphasis on literacy.

Cultures are chosen based upon their active imprint in the Township. In past years, Coming Together has celebrated Asian-Indians, Filipinos, Greeks, Assyrians, Koreans, Chinese, "Voices of Race", and Latinos/Hispanics.

The 2018 campaign will celebrate Muslim-American cultures and the Muslim residents in Niles Township who represent a wide variety of cultural backgrounds.

Resurrection "Sip & Paint" Party

with outdoor Blessing of the Water services, in following with the Julian calendar.

On Saturday afternoon, January 20th, Father Basil Hickman and the paroshioners of St George Greek Orthodox Parish hosted this important service at Grey's Lake near Downtown Des Moines and near the intersection of the Des Moines and Racoon Rivers. Joined by members of Orthodoxy from throughout Des Moines, they once again blessed this amazing lake that host water sports and recreation activities.

On Sunday afternoon, nearly a hundred parishioners of St John the Baptist Greek Orthodox Parish in Des Plaines, Illinois, came together on the banks of the Des Plaines River. Father Tom Papagiannis officiated the second annual blessing of this vitial waterway to the City of Chicago and State of Illinois.

Don't Declaw Your Cat!

By Diane Moe C.A.R.E. volunteer

Declawing a cat in one of the most controversial procedures in pet ownership. Nobody wants to have their furniture ruined by inappropriate scratching. But is declawing surgery-a procedure so excruciating that pharmaceutical companies use it for pain medicine clinical trials-really the answer? Declawing a cat is equivalent in a person to amputating the entire first knuckle of every finger, so it's not unreasonable to believe cats can suffer from "phantom limb pain."

Declawing has been illegal in England for many years. Australia, Brazil, Finland, Germany, New Zealand and Wales have also banned the surgery or only allow it under extreme circumstances. In 2001, the Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association published a report that about a third of cats suffer at least one behavioral problem following declawing.

Scratching 101 For Cats

Scratching is a natural and necessary behavior for cats. They scratch for exercise and stretching as well as using scent glands in their paws to mark territory. You cannot teach cats never to scratch. However, you can provide adequate scratching surfaces and then teach them what to use. Ideally, cats should be trained from kittenhood. Adult kitties, too, can be taught where to scratch. Here are a few tips on helping your cat learn.

• Provide plenty of scratching posts. Posts should be at least as tall as the cat, and sturdy. Make sure the material is something the cats can really sink their claws into, such as sisal. Some cats prefer to scratch horizontally, so corrugated cardboard scratch pads are ideal. • Place scratching posts in places where your kitty likes to scratch—near a favorite napping spot, and near the door (yes, your cat scratches when she's excited or happy, not because she's mad at you). • If you're training a young kitten, encourage her by scratching the post yourself and acting like you really enjoy it. Always praise her for using the post, and give treats. Cat behavior expert Steve Dale says cats have big egos, so the more you praise them, the happier they are. For adult cats, rub catnip on the posts to entice the cat to use it. Again, lots of praise when she does it right! • Don't yell at or punish the cat for scratching on the furniture. That only teaches him to scratch when you're not around; and if he's looking for attention, yelling gives exactly that. Instead, try blocking access to inappropriate places, or making the spots unappealing by adding double-sided tape. • Trim your cats' nails every 10 to 14 days to keep the nails blunt. You can also opt for Soft Paws, glue-on plastic caps that cover a cat's nail tips. If you decide that you still really want to have a declawed cat, please look for a cat that has already been declawed. Most shelter websites, including C.A.R.E.'s, will tell you if a particular cat has its claws or not. Community Animal Rescue Effort (C.A.R.E.) is a Skokiebased, volunteer-operated, not-for-profit 501(c)(3) animal rescue organization founded in 1987. ## Options for Nominating an Executor

Izabela Czajkowska and Michael Otte

We recently received an inquiry from one of our readers about options to nominate an executor for a Will. This is a question that is important to many of our clients. For those who have a surviving spouse, adult children, close relatives or other trusted individuals to choose from, the answer may be easy. For those clients who do not, the decision about who they can put in charge of their estate must be made very carefully.

In general, the main responsibilities of the executor are to (1) marshal the asses; (2)determine who the beneficiaries are; (3) set up estate accounts and transfer property to the accounts; (4) obtain property values and appraisals; (5) determine liabilities and claims against the estate and pay any legitimate claims; (6) determine and pay applicable taxes; and (7) distribute assets to beneficiaries.

In Illinois, a person who has attained the age of 18 years, is a resident of the United States, is not of unsound mind, is not an adjudged person with a disability and has not been convicted of a felony is qualified to act as an executor. Therefore, the legal requirements are very simple. If you do not have a loved one or a dear friend who can be your executor you want to make sure that in addition to meeting the legal requirements, you choose a person that you can trust. It should be someone who is organized, follows instructions well, can carry out tasks and is able to seek out professional assistance when necessary. Examine your circle of acquaintances and you may be able to identify an individual who has these qualities and would be a good candidate. Also, if you have a trusted accountant or a lawyer that you have a solid professional relationship with, these professionals would be the best candidates. Another option is a financial institution such as a bank that performs fiduciary services for a fee. One final consideration is professional fiduciary services.

Please remember that if you ignore this important task of appointing an executor, the court will pick one for you. That person may or may not be a relative and it may not be the ideal choice. It is important to contact your attorney to discuss any potential candidates and pick someone that will be your best choice. Our attorneys at Otte & Czajkowska LLC can be reached at 773-631-7100 or info@oclawyergroup.com.

Presence Resurrection Medical Center Earns Certification as a Comprehensive Stroke Center

Presence Resurrection Medical Center has received certification as a Comprehensive Stroke Center from DNV GL Healthcare, an international accrediting body for healthcare facilities. Presence Resurrection Medical Center is one of only four hospitals in Illinois to have received this level of advanced certification for the care of stroke.

According to DNV GL, Comprehensive Stroke Centers represent the most advance stroke treatment available in a given geographic area.

This designation means the clinicians at Presence Resurrection Medical Center have proven their efforts in caring for stroke patients exceed the patient safety standards, best practice policies and procedures and meet target volumes set forth by DNV GL, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services and the American Stroke Association. The emphasis placed on deploying a disciplined management system and relevant clinical best practices sets DNV GL certified Comprehensive Stroke Centers apart from other programs.

Patients suspected of experiencing a stroke are immediately evaluated and treated by the Presence Resurrection Medical Center stroke team, which includes emergency department physicians and clinicians, neurosurgeons and endovascular physicians available 24 hours a day, seven days a week to provide the best, most efficient care for the best results.

Certification by DNV GL Healthcare as a Comprehensive Stroke Center is based on standards set forth by the Brain Attack Coalition and the American Stroke Association, affirming the certified organizations address the full spectrum of stroke care-diagnosis, treatment, rehabilitation and patient education-and establishes clear metrics to evaluate outcomes.

'We have consistently demonstrated the greatest level of commitment to the care of our stoke patients and are very pleased to be certified as a Comprehensive Stroke Center," said Dr. David Bordo, Presence Resurrection Medical Center's chief medical officer. "This certification is the direct result of the high-level care our physicians, nurses and staff provide, every day."

When it comes to stroke, Dr. Bordo said patients need quality clinicians, resources and extreme efficiency, due to the time-critical nature of this condition.

"This certification from DNV GL validates the effort we've put into our program to ensure the health and safety of our patients and community.'

Stroke is the number five cause of death and a leading cause of adult disability in the United States, according to the American Heart Association/American Stroke Association. On average, someone suffers a stroke every 40 seconds; someone dies of a stroke every four minutes; and 795,000 people suffer a new or recurrent stroke each year.

Hear Better in 2018 With These 5 Steps

About 20 percent of Americans, 48 million people, report some degree of hearing loss. By age 65, the proportion of people with hearing loss is closer to one-third. That's why it's so important for everyone, young or old, to have a hearing wellness plan. Hearing loss tends to happen gradually, so it can be difficult to know when it's happening to you. To stay on top of your hearing health this year, here are 5 things to think about:

1. Look for signs of hearing loss in your life.

The signs might be subtle, such as having some trouble comprehending conversations in a noisy environment, finding yourself turning up the TV louder than you used to before, or having occasional ringing in your ears.

You should be particularly vigilant about the state of your hearing if you're above 50. The American Medical Association recommends a hearing evaluation as a part of your general annual physical exam starting at age 50. Just like your eyes, your hearing changes over time, so you should consider getting an annual hearing test.

2. Properly maintain your hearing aids.

If you already have hearing aids, you likely have periodic appointments with a doctor to check in about your hearing. If you haven't kept up with these for some reason, we encourage you to book an appointment soon, not only to have your hearing tested again, but also so an audiologist can examine your current hearing aids. Your hearing aids may have to be adjusted or reprogrammed, and you may be surprised by the difference that makes in your overall hearing.

3. Evaluate your occupation.

There are many jobs that regularly feature levels of noise loud enough to cause permanent hearing loss. Examples include musician, construction worker, flight attendant, bus driver, dentist, bartender, and others. If you work in one of these environments, you owe it to yourself to consult with an audiologist sooner rather than later about getting some hearing protection or implementing other strategies to shield your ears from noise. Permanent hearing loss, by definition, can't be reversed, so it's important to do something about the risk before you start to experience problems.

4. Watch out for recreational activities.

If you ride a motorcycle, go to concerts, listen to loud music at home, or shoot guns, among other hobbies, you could be doing permanent hearing damage to your hearing. If you have any hobbies that might have loud sound levels, do some research on how to practice that hobby more safely and save your hearing. Need tips? Get in touch with us!

5. Watch for signs of hearing loss in your loved ones.

Hearing health is a community effort, and it's important to pay if forward. Not everyone is great at perceiving the signs of hearing loss, so if you know more about it than your loved ones (which you should, because you're reading this blog!), watch out for some of the commonplace signs, and if your loved one exhibits these, encourage him or her to go in for a hearing exam.

Ready to hear better this year? If you've noticed any signs of hearing loss in yourself or a loved one, contact us today to set up an appointment and get a hearing evaluation!

Resurrection College Prep Senior Awarded Evans Scholarship & Sheriff's Commitment To Service Award

Resurrection College Prep High School senior Mairead Skelton '18 has been awarded a Chick Evans Caddie Scholarship by the Western Golf Association (WGA) Scholarship Committee. She is a graduate of St. Cornelius School and has been a golf caddie at Ridgemoor Country Club since her freshman year of high school. She was also recently awarded the Sheriff's Commitment to Service Award by Cook County Sheriff Thomas Dart's office. Mairead earned the Gold Award, the highest award any Girl Scout can receive, by undertaking a service project in 2016 in which she collected, donated and delivered over 6,000 items in school supplies to students in Baton Rouge following the severe flooding that occurred in Louisiana. For the past few years, she has volunteered at Presence Resurrection Medical Center and has been active in the non-profit organization Friends for a Cure.

At Resurrection, Mairead is a member of the National Honor Society, the Science National Honor Society and has been named a Res Scholar. She has also been involved in the Go Green Club, Math Club, DIY Club, Natural Helpers, Student Ambassadors, Worldwide Youth in Science and Engineering (WYSE), and the Campus Ministry leadership group, the Anastasia's. Mairead participated in the Practicum Job Shadowing Program at Resurrection and as a result of the opportunity to observe medical professionals, she is looking forward to studying psychology in college with the hope of becoming a child psychiatrist.

"Resurrection has really helped me to shape these goals," said Mairead. "I love the women's empowerment that is found at Resurrection; in classes we have women building up and supporting each other." Mairead credits Resurrection for being both academically challenging and supportive and said that "teachers and other staff have encouraged me to take risks and step out of my comfort zone." Mairead's top college choices are University of Illinois, Marquette University and Northwestern University, all schools that participate in the Evans Scholar Program.

Resurrection Students Learn, Audition & Earn Scholarships At Illinois Theatre Fest

Twenty Resurrection College Prep High School students attended the 2018 Illinois High School Theatre Festival held at Illinois State University from January 11 to 13, 2018. Attendees had the opportunity to attend the All-State production of Big Fish and students also had the opportunity to attend several other performances as well.

Over 40 college and universities from Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, Missouri and other states sent representatives from their admissions and theatre departments to meet with students and to receive their auditions. Three Resurrection seniors participated in these college auditions. As a result, Kellie Rohrer '18 received 13 callback offers, Emily Murdach '18 received 21 callback offers, and Maribel Pagan '18 received 29 callback offers from schools all over the region. As a result of these offers, Maribel Pagan has very recently committed to majoring in Theatre Education with an endorsement in History at Illinois State University.

Resurrection students also attended workshops led by industry professionals on armed and unarmed stage combat, distressing fabrics for costume design, building a theatre program, beginner's improv, broadway dance workshops, audition tips and tricks, and even performing in an open mic night. Students had the opportunity to network with neighboring schools, and students from all over the state. Upon returning to Resurrection, students shared their new findings with Drama Club/Thespians, and are bringing this knowledge into their Theatre I and Honors Theatre classes.

All of the Resurrection students who attended Theatre Fest brought back new warmup games, new processes for character analysis and interpretation, new technical tips and trades, and new friends that they might have otherwise not encountered. They brought back new knowledge of theatrical play scripts, new experiences performing in front of others, and new ways of approaching theatre challenges. According to a group of new Theatre Fest attendees, it was "a trip of a lifetime."

Annual Young Women's Math Olympics At Resurrection College Prep

Resurrection College Prep provides academic and athletic opportunities for current and prospective students. As an all-girls school, Resurrection is proud to cite the advantages to learning in an all-girl environment from the National Coalition of Girls' Schools. Advantages include greater individual attention, higher academic achievement, greater success in Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) fields, reduced gender stereotypes and greater leadership opportunities. Resurrection provides a learning environment that prepares young women for success, in part because the culture of a single-gender school allows girls to display their intelligence, take risks and develop confidence in their own areas of strength.

On Friday, February 16, 2018, Resurrection College Prep High School's Mathematics Department, together with the Resurrection Math Club, will sponsor the Young Women's Math Olympics. This academic competition is open to all 6th, 7th and 8th-grade girls. Admission is free of charge and participants will receive refreshments and prizes, play games, and use their math skills in a fun and friendly competition. Check-in begins at 3:30 pm and the contest and awards will conclude at approximately 5:30 pm. Participants should bring a calculator and #2 pencils. Students will compete individually and top scorers will receive Gold, Silver or Bronze medals in Algebra and Geometry. Fourth and Fifth place participants will receive certificates.

Parents, teacher and school administrators from participating schools are welcome to

KOTA KAPAMA (CHICKEN IN TOMATO SAUCE) From the Kitchen of Anastasia E. Weaver

This is a dish served in many parts of Greece, especially in Arcadia in the Peloponnese - to guests and a special menu on Sundays.

1 whole chicken cut into parts, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1-1/2 tsp of cinnamon

Sauce:

- I tbsp of drippings 1 tbsp of all-purpose flour
- 2-3 cups of water
- 1/2 cup of Canola or Olive Oil
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- I cup of canned diced tomatoes (no salt added)
- 1 cup of tomato sauce (no salt added)
- 1/2 cup of dry white wine (optional)
- I whole cinnamon stick 6 whole cloves 1/2 tsp oregano Juice of one lemon
- 2 tbsp of grated Kefalotyri cheese (found
- in Greek tnarkets*) or Pannesan or Romano)

Cut the chicken in parts, wash and dry and then place in a bowl. Sprinkle with lemon juice, salt and pepper and 1-112 tsp. of cinnamon Marinate for about 15 minutes. Heat oil in a Dutch Oven or large pot and saute the chicken until golden. Add the wine, cover and simmer for about 15 trinutes. In the meantime prepare the sauce in another pan by mixing the flour with a little of the water to a paste consistency. Combine the rest of the ingredients but not the cheese. Cook the sauce on a low/ tnedium fire on top of the range for about 10 minutes stirring to combine. Add the sauce to the chicken and continue to cook another 20 to 25 minutes or until the chicken is well done.

Prepare the pasta Macaroni* or Spaghetti as directed by the pasta maker. Drain and place on a platter sprinkling the pasta with the grated Kefalotyri, Parmesan or Romano as desired. Place the Chicken and the Sauce into an appropriate serving dish along with the platter of pasta and present to your family and/or guests.

Do You Have Gardening Questions?

Our NGS Garden Question and Answer Panel is Here to Help!

Thursday, February 1, 2018, 6:30 pm at Warren Park Fieldhouse, 6601 N Western.

A trio of NGS members will share the wisdom that they have acquired from a lifetime of planting, pruning, designing and caring for gardens. You can ask our panel questions about garden design, tools, trees, bushes, perennials, annuals, vegetables, herbs and house plants. The Grow Tech, Inc tools catalogue will be available.

Please email your questions to emannaberg@yahoo.com

Or you can write your questions down and give them to the panel at the time of the meeting. Spontaneous questions from the audience are encouraged. We will share our experiences, and learn from each other.

It is not too late to pay your 2018 dues. $20.00 or $30.00 for a couple.
