To All Of Our Jewish
Friends And Neighbors

ABOUT CHANUKAH: Chanukah, the Festival of Lights, begins this year on the evening of Sunday, December 2 and concludes the evening of Monday, December 10. It recalls the victory of a militarily weak Jewish people who defeated the Syrian Greeks who had overrun ancient Israel and sought to impose restrictions on the Jewish way of life and prohibit religious freedom. They also desecrated and defiled the Temple and the oils prepared for the lighting of the menorah, which was part of the daily service. Upon recapturing the Temple only one jar of undefiled oil was found, enough to burn only one day, but it lasted miraculously for eight. In commemoration, Jews celebrate Chanukah for eight days by lighting an eight-branched candelabrum known as a menorah. Today, people of all faiths consider the holiday a symbol and message of the triumph of freedom over oppression, of spirit over matter, of light over darkness. Chabad popularized celebrating Chanukah with public Menorah's around the world. Additional information about the Chanukah holiday is available at www.ChabadIllinois.com/Chanukah

77 Years Ago Today – A Day That Will Live In Infamy

National Pearl Harbor Remembrance Day

National Pearl Harbor Remembrance Day, which is annually on December 7, commemorates the attack on Pearl Harbor, in Hawaii, during World War II. Many American service men and women lost their lives or were injured on December 7, 1941. National Pearl Harbor Remembrance Day is also referred to as Pearl Harbor Remembrance Day or Pearl Harbor Day.

What do people do?

On the direction of the President, the flag of the United States of America should be displayed on the homes of Americans, the White House and all United States government buildings. The flag should be flown at half-mast to honor those who died in the attack on Pearl Harbor. Many associations, especially those linked with Pearl Harbor survivors or those who died from the attack participate in special services to commemorate the event. Memorial services are held at venues such as the USS Arizona Memorial in Pearl Harbor. Other activities include: wreath-laying ceremonies; keynote speeches by those associated with the event; luncheons; media stories on survivors' recollections of the Pearl Harbor attack; and school activities to educate students about the attack on Pearl Harbor in relation to World War II history.

Public Life

Pearl Harbor Remembrance Day is not a federal holiday. Government offices, schools, businesses and other organizations do not close. Public transit systems run on their regular schedules.

Wreaths Across America

In its 26th year, Wreaths Across America has grown into a massive organization, honoring veterans and their families. Each year a convoy with thousands of wreaths makes the trek from Maine to Arlington National Cemetery to lay them on the graves of fallen soldiers. It was first started by Morrill and Karen Worcester when their wreath company had a surplus of 5,000 wreaths, and they wanted to do something special with them. Today, they send more than a million wreaths across the country to remember, honor and teach. We join them on their week-long tour.

Sponsor Remembrance Wreaths In Your Local Communities

We're on a mission to Remember, Honor and Teach. Join us by sponsoring a wreath to be placed in honor or in memory of a veteran this December. Help us ensure that the sacrifices of our heroes are never forgotten.

Honor and Remember

A child, a parent, a neighbor, a friend: What better way to honor the service of a loved one and remember their sacrifice than by sponsoring a wreath in their honor or in their memory?

Pairs: Give a Wreath and Get a Wreath

When you sponsor a Patriot Pair, one wreath will be placed at one of 1,200 cemeteries across the nation and a second wreath will be sent to the address of your choice.

Go To www.wreathscrossamerica.org or call (207) 470-0967 or Toll Free: (877) 385-9504 for information on how to participate and donate.

The American's Creed

I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed, a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to support its constitution, to obey its laws, to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies. (Authorized Version)

Illinois Celebrates its 200th Birthday with Grand Bicentennial Party

Celebrities, original performances, videos highlight an emotional night on Chicago's Navy Pier

Two hundred years ago today Illinois became the Union's 21st state, and tonight Illinois celebrities, dignitaries, veterans and citizens came together to celebrate at the Bicentennial Birthday Party on Chicago's Navy Pier.

Legendary journalist Bill Kurtis hosted the program, which opened with Wayne Messmer belting out the national anthem and Gov. Bruce Rauner welcoming a crowd of more than 2,300 party-goers.

"Tonight, we recognize some of the great contributions Illinois has made to society and the world," said Gov. Rauner. "The milestones featured during our 200th birthday represent opportunities to reflect on our past and understand the great assets our state has to build on for the future. We have a lot to be proud of ... and lot to build on."

Rauner noted the contributions of Bicentennial sponsors who made it possible to conduct a year's worth of Bicentennial activities without spending taxpayer money. The key sponsors included Wintrust, which served as the Official Bank of the Bicentennial, Walgreens, Abbott, Boeing, BMO Harris, Illinois Office of Tourism, Comcast and United Airlines.

Act 1 of the program started with features to establish the Bicentennial theme of things Born, Built and Grown in Illinois. While members of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra performed Happy Birthday, Gov. Rauner joined Eli Cheesecake's Mark Schulman to cut a 1,000-pound Honest Abe Apple Cheesecake that was shaped like the Illinois State Capitol. Chicago vocalist Simone Green added a stirring rendition of the Illinois state song.

Governor-elect JB Pritzker also addressed the crowd. "We are celebrating our bicentennial as one Illinois," he said, "ringing in our third century with hope and optimism to build on the progress of our first 200 years."

A Celebration in Six High Energy Acts

- In Act 2, members of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra paid tribute to the Bicentennial Honor 200 Veterans with a piece composed by John Williams from the movie "Lincoln." After a video on Illinois military history narrated by Illinoisan Joe Mantegna, Major General Richard Hayes, head of the Illinois National Guard, recognized Honor 200 veterans from 50 counties. The members of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra added to the emotion of the segment by performing the Armed Forces Medley.

- In Act 3, a video highlighted iconic Illinois theater, movie, and television productions, actors and actresses. Second City and SNL alum Robert Smigel and George Wendt reenacted their Superfan 'Da Bears' skit.

- In Act 4, Smigel and Wendt introduced video on the birth of the NFL and the Bears. The piece featured legendary Papa Bear George Halas as his grandson, Bears CEO and President George McCaskey, looked on. The Bears will celebrate their 100th anniversary in 2019.

- Also in Act 4, East St. Louis native and Olympic Champion Jackie Joyner Kersee hosted a salute to Illinois Champions. For the first time ever all six major league professional team championship trophies were together. She focused on the trophies one at a time as spot lights illuminated trophies of the Chicago Bears, Blackhawks, Bulls, Cubs, Fire and White Sox. Representatives of each of the teams were joined by Olympic Champions and two members of the Women's League Champion Rockford Peaches.

- In Act 5 on History and Culture, the audience was treated to special video tributes to the men from Illinois who became US Presidents. Under the direction of Broadway in Chicago, Miguel Cervantes (Hamilton in Chicago) performed an original composition of the "Gettysburg Rap." Cervantes was accompanied by Illinois High School Musical Theater Awardees from all over the state. "I am so excited to be a part of the celebration, to reflect on this historical speech and deliver what will be a powerful message," Cervantes said.

- Act 6 featured Illinois Music with a special acoustical performance by Kevin Cronin of REO Speedwagon. Cronin reminisced about being from Illinois, "I am thrilled and honored to come home and celebrate Illinois' 200th birthday." REO Speedwagon was named the number one musical band in an Illinois Top 200 Bicentennial survey this past year.

- Act 6 also included a video chronicling the migration of Jazz and Blues from the Deep South to East St. Louis to Chicago showing what a great contribution Illinois gave to the music industry. The Real Deal of Chicago, Buddy Guy, and his band performed. Then a number of the evening's performers joined Guy for a finale, 'Sweet Home Chicago'.

Chicago Author Stan "Tex" Banash to Discuss "Illinois—the Road to Statehood" at Edgebrook Historical Society Meeting on December 10

The public is invited to hear award-winning Chicago author Stan "Tex" Banash discuss "Illinois—The Road to Statehood," at 6:15 p.m., on Dec. 10, at a meeting of the Edgebrook Historical Society, at the Edgebrook Branch, Chicago Public Library, 5331 W. Devon Ave. in Chicago.

Banash's hour-long power point presentation begins in 1673 with the arrival of early French explorers and concludes in 1818 when Congress granted statehood to Illinois. Using maps and images of key participants, the audience is taken on a path that helps them understand the roles of France, Great Britain and Spain in early America, the impact of wars, battles and treaties on establishing territorial and state borders along with other events related to creation of the Northwest Territory and the formation of Illinois and the other four related states.

Banash has a long history of voluntary service to his local communities in Chicago, and received an award for his book, Roadside History of Illinois, from the Illinois State Historical Society and recognition by the Illinois state legislature for promoting Illinois history. Most recently, he was named an Illinois Bicentennial Honor 200 honoree. His two earlier books were Best of Dee Brown's West and Dee Brown's Civil War Anthology. He also reviews books for a number of western publications, and is a member of Western Writers of America, Illinois State Historical Society, the Society of Midland Authors, Western History Association, American Legion Edison Park Post 541, and the Westerners—Chicago Corral, where he served as its sheriff for five years.

Copies of his three books will be available for purchase and inscription following the program.

The youngest visitors have the opportunity to participate in the “Kinder Club”. They will receive a free paper passport with coloring pages and learning games, in which they can collect stamps from different vendors on a scavenger hunt to win prizes. Other fun activities include the Lantern Parade on Kinder Tag when children get to march around and sing American and German Holiday songs with the Christkind, the namesake of the market. This fairy-like being, dressed in gold and white robes with a crown upon her golden locks, is the bearer of gifts to most children in German-speaking countries, much like Santa Claus is in the United States.

Guests may also enjoy a “Stammtisch” experience, a popular German tradition of a shared table gather, be it for a family, a business meeting, or a get-together with friends. Visitors can reserve a private table for up to eight people inside the heated Timber Haus where they can enjoy delicious food and drinks, such as sausages, potato pancakes, hot chocolate, and Glühwein.

This year, Christkindlmarket lovers do not only get the chance to experience the traditional markets in Chicago and Naperville, but also in Milwaukee. For the first time, the Christkindlmarket is taking place right next to Fiserv Forum where it will be open November 17 until December 31. All three markets offer a broad variety of entertainment, ranging from theater plays to professional singers and dance groups.

Ready to make some wonderful memories, collect a specialty souvenir mug from each location for your collection, and get into the holiday spirit? Mark your calendars, bring your loved ones, and enjoy one of the largest traditional Christkindlmarkets outside of Europe.

More information, Stammtisch table reservations, and mug sales are available on the Christkindlmarket's website: www.christkindlmarket.com

As composers, multi-instrumentalists and singer/songwriters, they have a well-earned reputation as a Chicago institution and national treasure. According to All About Jazz, "These musicians have come together to prove, once again, that it's not necessary to only look to New York for the best in American Jazz."

The Jamming Jean Music Series is made possible by a gift to the Levy Senior Center Foundation in honor of a former Levy Center member. Showcasing a wide array of musical talent, the free concert series is truly a multigenerational, multicultural experience representing the best Evanston has to offer.

The Levy Senior Center provides outstanding programs and support for thousands of adults 55+. The services and programs offered help make it possible for seniors in the Evanston area to remain active, independent, and connected to their community. ## Skokie Idol Begins January 12, 2019

By Wayne Mell, Artistic Director

We'd like to divert your mind from the holidays for a moment. The 5th Annual Skokie Idol competition is coming. Our annual winter event is open to everyone, regardless of what community you are from or how much experience you have. Contestants can come from everywhere. We've had students and retirees, business people and home makers, Since we're surrounded by lots of local talent, we're sure it's going to be an exciting contest.

Contestants will compete in one of three divisions based on age: Junior Division (Grades 4 - 7), Teen Division (Grades 8 - 12), and Adults (Everyone else). People bring in their very best songs and can be accompanied by a karaoke tracks on a CD, the piano at the theatre, another musical instrument they bring in, or they may even sing a Capella.

Auditions are held at the theatre on January 12, 2019. Contestants perform in front of our judges and the top contestants in each division will be selected to return for weekly sing-offs.

Weekly sing-offs will be held from 1:00 to 5:00 on Saturday afternoons starting January 26, and are open to the public. In fact, the public is crucial. Each week, the audience vote along with a smaller panel of judges and select the contestants in each category that are invited to return the next week. This continues until March 16 (with March 9th off for spring break). The last three contestants left in each division will move on to the finals.

Contestants can come from anywhere. We've had students and retirees, business people and home makers, professional singers and enthusiastic new comers. Audience votes determine who moves forward, so everyone has an equal chance. Since we're surrounded by lots of local talent, we're sure it's going to be an exciting contest.

Every week there is a different theme for the sing-offs. Last year, Saturday audiences were entertained themes such as 50's week, Elvis week, Broadway week, Country week and even the Billboard Top 100 from 1999. Many contestants have said that the most fun part of the contest is getting to sing songs in a style they don't normally pick for themselves.

The final round for the Junior Division will be held on Friday, April 5, 2019 at 7:30 pm. The final round for the Teen and Adult divisions will be held on Saturday, April 6 at 7:30 pm. The finals will consist of 3 songs to be sung by each contestant with a special guest accompanist. The winner of the finals from each category will win the GRAND PRIZE, a solo program during the winner's concert on July 10 as part of Skokie's Wednesdays on the Green.

The contest will be held at the Skokie Theatre, 7924 Lincoln Ave in Downtown Skokie and it open to everyone, regardless of where they live or their experience. There is a $25 registration fee. For complete contest rules and registration, please visit SkokieTheatre.org or call the Skokie Idol Hotline at 847-677-7761 ext. 4.

Chicago Bar Association Bringing Christmas Comfort To Shelter Animals

This holiday season the Chicago Bar Association is working to make the lives of Chicago-area shelter animals a little brighter by sponsoring a drive to collect much-needed supplies to help feed and comfort animals confined to shelters.

The CBA's Animal Law Committee is asking members and the public to remember the plight of shelter animals by donating food, supplies and toys for the benefit of Chicago animal shelters and their furry friends.

Proceeds from the drive will go directly to Red Door Animal Shelter, a no-kill shelter on Chicago's north side that is committed to promoting respect for animals in need through education, rescue, sheltering and adoption. The primary focus of Red Door Shelter is on cats, dogs and rabbits, the three most popular pets in the United States.

Tracy McGonigle, Chair of the Animal Law Committee, said donations being sought include unopened pet food and treats and supplies such as blankets, towels, toys, collars and leashes.

"There are so many shelter animals who won't be waking up in a loving home on Christmas morning. Any donation, big or small, will provide much needed support," said McGonigle.

Donations can be dropped off or messengered to the Chicago Bar Association at 321 S. Plymouth Court in Chicago.

2018 Holiday Flower Shows "Tickled Pink" & "Holiday Memories" Run Through January 6

Both holiday shows open to the public Friday, November 23 and run through Sunday, January 6 from 9am -5 pm; and on Wednesdays from 9am to 8pm at the Garfield Park Conservatory.

Garfield Park Conservatory, 300 N. Central Park Ave.

Lincoln Park Conservatory, 2391 N. Stockton Dr.

Garfield Park Conservatory's Holiday Flower "Tickled Pink" is a celebration of pink poinsettias. In addition to the traditional holiday evergreens, this year's show features non-traditional varieties of poinsettias in pink and blush. Pink lights and other pink plants cast a rosy glow for all holiday visitors. There are 12 different kinds of pink poinsettia plants that adorn the green house's Show Room. Guests are invited to come and search amongst the 600 pink holiday plants for the Luv U Pink, Freedom Pink, Polly's Pink and Venus Hot Pink poinsettias.

Lincoln Park Conservatory's Show House turns into a Winter Wonderland filled with more than 700 poinsettias, trees, sparkling lights, and model trains that traverse through the plantings. Bright red, green and white poinsettias create a majestic backdrop, while Radio Flyer Red Tricycle and wagons add to the whimsical and vintage-inspired holiday display. For this year's "Holiday Memories" showcase, exhibit curators dug out photos taken at the Conservatory in the 40s, 50s and 60s. These memories of holidays past are highlighted by a sky-high tree that is decorated with old-fashioned lights and Christmas ornaments of all colors, shapes and sizes. This winter, everyone is invited to come and make their own holiday memories at the Conservatory.

Mayor Emanuel, The Chicago Park District And Ken Griffin Announce The Lakefront Chill 5K On Saturday, December 15

To Celebrate Completing, The Lakefront Trail Separation Project, The Free Fun Run Will Bring Together Chicago Residents From Neighborhoods Across The City Participants Will Receive Beanies And Mittens

Mayor Rahm Emanuel will join the Chicago Park District and Founder and Chief Executive Officer of Citadel Ken Griffin to announce the Lakefront Chill 5K, a fun run to celebrate the completion of the Lakefront Trail Separation project. The fun run kicks off at Museum Campus Drive and Waldron Drive on Saturday, December 15 at 8:00AM.

“Finishing the Lakefront Trail Separation is a major celebration for thousands of people who use the trail every day, and in true Chicago spirit, we’ll be marking this accomplishment with the Lakefront Chill 5K,” said Mayor Emanuel. “I invite you to join me and hundreds of our fellow Chicagoans as we cut the ribbon on our world-class trail by running through the tape together.”

The Lakefront Chill 5K will bring together hundreds of runners, walkers and wheelchair pushers of every skill level. The 3.1 mile course runs from Museum Campus Drive, up the Lakefront Bike Path and back down the Lakefront Running Path and ending at the North Burnham Harbor Lot by Soldier Field.

Registration is FREE, and participants can sign up at <http://bit.ly/LakefrontChill5K>. Bib pickup is available onsite, and will include a timing tab. Participants will receive beanies and mittens, as well as water, snacks and hot chocolate.

Participants are encouraged to arrive at 7:00AM, and the race will begin at 8:00AM. Discounted parking is available in the Waldron Garage for $10. The course is wheelchair, stroller and dog friendly. Cyclists are encouraged to strap on their sneakers for the run.

The Lakefront Chill 5K is a celebration of the completed separation of Chicago’s entire 18-mile Lakefront Trail, which runs from Ardmore Avenue on the north to 71st Street on the south. The trail is now separated into two distinct paths for cyclists and pedestrians to alleviate areas of congestion. Initial funding was provided by the Chicago Park District. Completion of the project was made possible by a generous donation from Ken Griffin, Founder and Chief Executive Officer of Citadel.

Chicago’s Lakefront Trail is one of the busiest in the United States. Used by cyclists, joggers and people enjoying the scenery, it is estimated that more than 100,000 people per day use the trail during summer weekends according to a recent study by the Active Transportation Alliance (ATA).

Mayor Emanuel Announces New Milestones On The 312 Riverrun

The Ice Rink At Mcfettridge Sports Center Opens As Work At California And Horner Parks Continues And Construction On The Irving Park Bridge Begins

Mayor Rahm Emanuel today announced new milestones at the 312 RiverRun, nearly two mile recreational hub connecting the Irving Park, North Center, Avondale and Albany Park neighborhoods to three parks with one path. Led by the Chicago Park District, the new studio ice rink and expansion of McFettridge Sports Center is now complete, and work is continuing to improve California Park and Horner Park. The Chicago Department of Transportation will also begin construction of the Irving Park Road Bridge. The 312 RiverRun projects are part of the Mayor’s Building on Burnham plan to invest in projects that create new recreational opportunities across Chicago.

“The 312 RiverRun project is yet another example the invaluable resources the Chicago River provides to our residents,” said Mayor Emanuel. “While not complete, it is already clear that the 312 RiverRun will create an unparalleled network of outdoor recreational opportunities for residents while boosting neighborhood vibrancy and economic growth.”

The newly opened studio ice rink and expansions at McFettridge Sports Center is one of the first completed projects at the 312 RiverRun. The facility now houses a 200 feet by 85 feet ice sheet and the new 100 feet by 85 feet studio ice rink for competitive and recreational ice skating, hockey and tennis programs and special events.

Improvements to Horner Park and California Parks will also continue. Construction to extend the bike trail and renovate the baseball fields will start in 2019, following the recently completed addition of soccer mini-pitches and resurfaced four tennis courts at Horner Park. The Chicago Park District recently restored the riverbank at the Park in partnership with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, which had previously faced erosion and was inaccessible to visitors. Construction at California Park will include resurfacing four tennis courts and two basketball courts.

Work will also begin on the Irving Park Road Bridge and Multi-Use Path, which will create a new pedestrian and bike path under Irving Park Road along the west bank of the North Branch. The new underbridge multi-use path will link California Park to Horner Park to the north. Work on the Irving Park Road Bridge will also replace the existing 104-year-old structure and widen the roadway. The new bridge and path are expected to be complete in summer 2020.

Construction is proceeding through the winter on another CDOT project, the Riverview Bridge, which will cross over the North Branch of the Chicago River and under the Addison Road Bridge. The bridge will provide a new connection for runners, bicyclists and pedestrians between the paths in Clark Park to the south and California Park to the north. Extending more than 1,000 feet in length and 16 feet wide, the new Riverview Bridge will be the longest pedestrian river bridge in the city. It will have an elevation of more than 18 feet where it crosses the river to accommodate recreational use by boaters. Its unobstructed access will also eliminate the need for residents to cross major streets, enhancing pedestrian safety.

Completion of the Riverview Bridge, expected in summer 2019, and the Irving Park Road Bridge project will establish the full 312 RiverRun, providing a continuous path from Belmont to Montrose.

Winter Break Camps In Local Parks Check Out The North Side Park Offering Camps

Roadside History of Illinois

This is the twenty-third in a series of monthly short articles about places in Chicago, nearby suburbs and elsewhere in the state that can be visited by those who seek to learn more about local history. The articles are partial excerpts from the book, Roadside History of Illinois (Mountain Press, 2013), by Chicago author and Illinois native Stan Banash

Pullman—A Planned Community

Pullman was one of the nation's first planned communities, built as a self-contained industrial village, or company town. Entrepreneurial visionary George M. Pullman, owner of the Pullman Palace Car Company, established Pullman as an ideal living environment for his employees and their families. But what started as an experiment in capitalist paternalism eventually drove the workers to revolt.

Pullman formed his luxury railcar manufacturing company in 1867. Because Chicago, the railroad center of the country, was the perfect place for his national headquarters, he acquired some 4,000 acres south of the city in 1879, setting aside six hundred acres for housing, stores, and recreational facilities for his employees. Construction of the town, designed with attractive Victorian architecture and verdant landscaping, began on May 25, 1880. The first residents, the Edwin A. Benson family, moved in on January 1, 1881.

The community of Pullman, designed by architect Solon S. Beman, featured such amenities as gas lighting, indoor plumbing, and a sewer system, was one of the most technically advanced towns in the country. It had its own market, restaurants, hospital, bank, church, library, theater, and more, including a three-acre manmade lake called Lake Vista. The Pullman Company provided its workers with decent wages and a pleasant, stable living environment—revolutionary for its time. By 1883 the town had 4,512 residents, and within two years, that number had nearly doubled. It hit its peak around 1892, when the population reached 14,702.

After a few years, however, employees began to balk at George Pullman's near-total control over their lives. The unrest escalated during the 1893 economic depression, when the company closed shops, laid off workers, and reduced wages while rent and utilities—automatically deducted from workers' paychecks—remained the same, creating severe hardships for families solely dependent on the boss.

Before long, national labor leader Eugene V. Debs stepped into the fray, organizing the Pullman employees and pressing for wage increases and rent reductions. When Pullman refused the demands, Debs called a strike, which began on May 10, 1894. A month later, in sympathy, American Railway Union members boycotted Pullman cars, creating transportation havoc and disrupting mail service.

In July, in an unprecedented move, President Grover Cleveland sent thousands of federal troops to Chicago to put down the strike. Violence erupted. A series of riots led to the death of at least 12 strikers, dozens of injuries, and hundreds of thousands of dollars in property damage. By early August, the strike had broken down and workers returned to their posts with nothing to show for it. Debs was imprisoned for six months in the McHenry County Jail in Woodstock for violating a federal injunction against the strike.

George Pullman, embittered by his workers' ingratitude, died of a heart attack in 1897. His family, fearing his body would be stolen or desecrated, buried him under eight feet of concrete at Chicago's Graceland Cemetery. Shortly after Pullman's death, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that all of the Pullman Company's industrial property had to be sold to private interests.

The community got along for several more decades, but the Great Depression triggered a decline that continued into the 1960s, when historical preservationists stepped in to save the Pullman neighborhood from demolition. Pullman was designated an Illinois Landmark in 1969, a National Historic Landmark District in 1971, a City of Chicago Landmark in 1972, and a National Monument in 2015.

The posh, sixty-five room Hotel Florence, built in 1881 as the showpiece of Pullman's utopia, is now a public museum. Other highlights of the Pullman Historic District include the former Administration Building, with its striking Clock Tower (heavily damaged by a 1998 arson fire); the former Greenstone Church; and the elegant row houses that still line the neighborhood's quiet streets.

“Night Out in the Parks has provided a platform for more than 120 arts and community organizations each year to showcase their work as part of this successful year-round, city-wide initiative,” said Chicago Park District Superintendent and CEO Michael P. Kelly. “In 2019, we aim to continue to foster creativity and cultural celebration in Chicago's 77 community areas by hosting over 1,000 varied, free cultural events in our neighborhood parks.”

Projects have varied from traditional performances and concerts to community workshops, nature-based programs, interactive dance, festivals, and more. Still, there is always a place for new and creative concepts in Night Out in the Parks.

Night Out in the Parks seeks to continue to uncover partners that find creative ways to celebrate nature and the great outdoors, highlight the parks' historic and natural assets through site inspired pieces, and engage youth in the arts through their incredible programming and community engagement.

Mayor Rahm Emanuel and the Chicago Department of Cultural Affairs and Special Events (DCASE) are designating 2019 as the “Year of Theater.” The Night Out in the Parks initiative will support the campaign by seeking out performance opportunities for youth citywide. ## We Celebrate The Ethnic Diversity Of Chicago's Heritage Village Cooking Corner

Pecan Tassies

This recipe is from my sister-in-law, Elisabeth. The "tassies" look like miniature pies and they taste simply heavenly! Here's the recipe:

For the dough you need one 8 oz. pkg of cream cheese, two sticks of butter and two cups of flour. Mix the ingredients as you would for a pie crust. Divide the dough into four equal parts. Roll out on a floured board to about 1/8" thickness and cut out 2" or 2-1/2" diameter rounds.

Filling: 1-1/2 cups brown sugar, 1-1/2 cups chopped pecans or walnuts, 2 tsp. vanilla, 2 eggs, 2 tbsp. melted butter and a dash of salt.

Ease the circles of dough into a cup, using a couple of small-size cupcake pans, which you have sprayed with no-stick spray. Spoon one teaspoon of the filling into each cup. Bake in a pre-heated oven at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes. Carefully remove the tassies from the pan and place on a cookie rack to cool completely before storing. Yummy, yummy for the tummy!
