STUDENTS DO GOOD DEEDS FOR OTHERS

Orchard Academy students are bringing comfort to sick and needy children and adults by helping Bears of Hope, a Skokie based volunteer organization. The organization makes huggable handcrafted fabric bears it delivers to clergy and social service organizations to give to individuals they serve who are facing difficult life situations. There is no charge for the bears. Since Bears of Hope's beginning in 2007, over 600 bears are now bringing hope to children and adults needing TLC. A student at Orchard Academy remarked, "It feels good to do something meaningful for others."

Teacher, Sarissa Hahn said, "Students enjoy the work. It's a practical way for them to develop work and life skills while learning the value of volunteering to help others." She takes students to Bears of Hope to pick up bears. At Orchard Academy, students machine wash and dry bears and iron-on their face features. This step gets bears ready to give hugs, comfort and hope to children and adults. Students also stuff bears with Fairfield poly-fil and prepare unprinted cotton fabric, as needed, for Bears of Hope's children's craft program "Design a Bear for Sick and Needy Children". Student Alex exclaimed, "I like the bears. They are awesome!"

Orchard Academy, located in Skokie, is part of Orchard Village, a nonprofit organization, which for 38 years supports over 300 men, women and children with disabilities. ## In Memory ...

The buzz of the news media personnel and their interviewing people shocked with the news: "The President is Dead." Did we not all experience utter shock and sorrow as the news spread throughout the United States ... throughout the world ... throughout each mind and heart upon hearing of this tragedy of Polish President Lech Kaczynski and 95 others, who were all, in one way or another, very important at this time in Poland's history: political, economic, legislative leaders ... and Chicago's own artist/sculptor, Wojciech Seweryn.

Not too long ago, Seweryn completed a tribute to the "slaughter," in the Katyn Forest of 20,000 highly influential Polish military and intelligencia, who 70 years ago, after the Second World War, would be capable of leading the Nation at the end of the Soviet and Nazi war, which tore Poland apart. Seweryn's Father was one of the 20,000 massacred at Katyn.

At the entrance gate of St. Adalbert's Cemetery in Niles, the large cross with angelic wings, the statue of the Blessed Mother holding her own Son in her lap at the foot of this cross ... another Pieta, was the design and the dream of Wojciech. Another tribute at this monument was meant to be held in the first days of May, when President Kaczynski was to be in Chicago for the Polish Independence Day parade.

There was supreme joy in the Seweryn household that Wojciech was invited to the original location in the Katyn Forest for the 70th anniversary memorial as part of the presidential delegation ... accompanying President Kaczynski on the Polish Air One.

The questions are many: why were so many political, economic, military and influential Polish people on one flight?

The Polish are accustomed to walking in pilgrimage for miles - even days - in the annual tribute to Our Lady of Czestochowa during the month of August. Thousands march from St. Michael Church on South Shore Drive to Merrillville, IN in a prayerful procession. Two thousand Poles marched along Milwaukee Avenue from the original "port of entry" of years ago (Division and Milwaukee) to St. Hyacinth Basilica (Milwaukee and Central Park) to celebrate at Mass the death of another most beloved world leader, the Polish Pope, John Paul II.

On Sunday, April 11th, three hundred walked from Chopin Park (Long at Belmont) to St. Hyacinth Basilica Parish.

As three thousand people filled the Basilica, they heard each name of the deceased announced individually. They came to pray for each of them.

Afterwards they struggled to find the words which would somehow express how they felt about the tragedy ... words of grief ... words of gratitude ... words of hope ... words of love of Country ... for the leadership which is bringing Poland from the grips of Communism.

From this difficult and painful, yet communal experience, strong and peaceful might describe the sentiments of these Polish people: powerless and helpless, yet strong; sad, yet divinely peaceful; broken, yet whole.

It is faith in God which unites the praying community, connecting this world with divine life. All that matters is simply a communion of people with no words needed. The deaths of our brothers and sisters bring us all together here, and at many other churches where the memory of these people will be celebrated in masses at various churches throughout the world.

Eucharist is thanksgiving.

They rest in peace. May they inspire us to live in the memory of Katyn of 70 years ago and the Katyn of today.

We remember ... their patriotism ... love of Country and family.

We celebrate ... their dedication.

We believe ... we will see them in the eternal life.

By: Rev. Francis S. Rog, C.R., St. Hyacinth Basilica Parish

ILLINOIS HOLOCAUST MUSEUM & EDUCATION CENTER NOW ACCEPTING DOCENT APPLICATIONS

Skokie Museum seeks dedicated volunteers eager to make a difference; serve as tour guides, ambassadors

The Illinois Holocaust Museum & Education Center is looking for enthusiastic, motivated volunteers to serve as docents. Applications are available online now at www.ilholocaustmuseum.org. Completed applications are due by April 30, 2010.

Docents advance the educational mission of the Museum by serving as the Museum's principal ambassadors. They conduct tours and facilitate conversations with school groups and visitors of all ages and backgrounds. Extensive prior knowledge of the Holocaust or other genocides is not required, but a working knowledge of European, world, or Holocaust history and a willingness to learn are recommended. Flexible hours and bilingual speaking ability are also a plus.

Successful docents have positive energy and enthusiasm, great teamwork skills, and are dependable and comfortable speaking in public. Docents should embrace change and challenge, enjoy interacting with new people, be capable of physical activity and have regular access to email.

All docents must be available to attend a two-week Summer Institute. The first week, June 14-18, will cover "Teaching the Holocaust" and the second, June 21-25, will address "Teaching Human Rights and Genocide." Each session runs from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., plus two evening sessions each week. Friday sessions are optional. In addition, the Summer Institute will be followed by two sessions on technique training -- July 28 and 29, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

For more information or to obtain an application, please visit www.ilholocaustmuseum.org or call 847.967.4800.

Likely the last international institution of its kind built with the active participation of Holocaust survivors, the Illinois Holocaust Museum & Education Center is the largest facility in the Midwest dedicated to preserving the memories of those lost in the Holocaust and to teaching current generations to fight hatred, indifference and genocide in today's world.

SEMINAL 6 WEEK HOLOCAUST COURSE COMING UP

Our next 6 week course begins soon on April 29th. It is entitled "Beyond Never Again: How the Holocaust Speaks to Us Today."

We are all familiar with story and tremendous tragedy and atrocities of the holocaust, and we are committed to ensuring that it doesn't happen again. But is that it? Is that the entire message our generation gleans from the Holocaust?

Join us to explore how the Holocaust continues to affect our generation and colors what it means to live as a Jew today.

The Holocaust forces us to grapple with the existence of evil and suffering. It challenges us to find faith and optimism in the face of devastation and despair. And it humbles us as we encounter heroes of the spirit who fought for truth and decency in the darkest of times.

Lubavitch Chabad of Skokie, 4059 Dempster Street, Skokie. 847-677-1770.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER: THE 2010 TALKING PICTURES FESTIVAL

Now in its second year, the 2010 Talking Pictures Festival takes place May 6 - 9 in Evanston and celebrates independent films from around the world mixed with brand new offerings by local filmmakers. From animation to documentaries and fiction films, this year's four-day festival features 18 full-length films and five programs of shorts, including regional premieres from the US, Japan, Israel, Canada and Georgia/Kazakhstan, among others.

The 2010 Talking Pictures Festival opens with the regional premiere of George Ovashvili's THE OTHER BANK (Georgia/Kazakhstan), winner of the Grand Jury Prize at the Seattle International Film Festival. THE OTHER BANK draws strong performances from non-professional actors as it follows a child's dangerous journey across a war-ravaged land. Other regional premieres include FIGHTING FISH, a simmering sibling drama by first-time director Annette Apitz, and Atsuhiko Yamada's "anti-romantic" comedy HAPPY ENDING (Japan). The festival's strong documentary line-up includes several regional premieres as well: Laura Israel's look at the unexpected hazards of green energy in WINDFALL; Tom Shepard's science doc WHIZ KIDS; and AUTOMORPHOSIS, Harrod Blank's charming take on cars that have been transformed into full-blown artworks.

ABOUT THE FESTIVAL: Founded in 2009, The Talking Pictures Festival is a project of Percolator Films (www.percolatorfilms.org), a new non-profit film organization that now also organizes Evanston's popular, ten-year old REELTIME film and discussion series. Independent filmmakers Kathy Berger and Ines Sommer co-direct the fest.

For the festival, Percolator Films partners with local organizations, community groups, and businesses, to bring new independent films to Evanston and beyond. Major festival sponsors include Blue Cross Blue Shield of Illinois, ROSCOR Media and Information Technologies, and Hotel Orrington, along with other Evanston businesses and organizations. Media sponsors for the 2010 Talking Pictures Festival are: The Onion ("America's Finest News Source") and AV Club Chicago; WCPT AM & FM - Chicago's Progressive Talk Radio; and the Evanston Roundtable.

Festival venues include NEXT Theatre at Noyes Cultural Arts Center, Hotel Orrington's Hinman Theater, Century 12 Evanston/CineArts 6, and the Evanston Public Library

Lincolnwood Parks and Recreation Introduces Zumba® Fitness Party!

The Lincolnwood Parks and Recreation Department is infusing party fun into fitness this Summer with the launch of Zumba®. Zumba disguises the "work" from "working out" by combining amazing, irresistible Latin and international music with dynamic, yet simple dance exercise moves, using an intermittent training format.

While Zumba embraces all the fundamental principles of fitness, the key to Zumba's success is how the music and movement motivate the body to efficiently burn calories, effectively tone all muscle groups, incorporate full range of motion, and improve the cardiovascular system. Fun and music are the two special motivational ingredients. Utilizing the natural beat, tempo, and music transitions, the Zumba dances seamlessly flow from one toning, strengthening, or cardio move into the next. Participants are constantly engaged and entertained with the variety of rhythms including salsa, merengue, samba, belly dancing, cumbia, flamenco, reggaeton, and more! Zumba breaks away from the typical aerobic class format and uses the passion of the music as it was meant to be experienced. Even those who believe they have "two left feet" are successful in a Zumba class because of the natural flow of the simple steps that radiate through the body in synch with the music.

Zumba is recognized by the world's leading fitness educators, including the Aerobic and Fitness Association of America, the American Council on Exercise, and CanFitPro, a Canadian national fitness accreditation organization. With sanctioned training programs in countries like China, Japan, Taiwan, Mexico, the United Kingdom, Canada, and Venezuela, Zumba is taking the world by storm.

A free Zumba demonstration class will be held at the Lincolnwood Community Center on Tuesday, April 27 at 10:15 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. Registration is currently underway. For more information, please contact the Lincolnwood Parks and Recreation Department at (847) 677-9740 or visit the department's website at www.lincolnwoodil.org, where online registration is available.

“Kinderchor” to Celebrate 75 Years

In today's ever changing world, it is rare to find an organization that has thrived for 75 years and still holds true to the tenets on which it was founded. But so it is with the renowned German-American Children's Chorus, more commonly known as “Kinderchor” (children's choir), as they prepare for a gala anniversary concert and dinner-dance on Sunday, May 16 at the Avalon Ballroom in Elk Grove Village.

It was 1935 when the flourishing men's and ladies' German choruses in Chicago gave birth to the “Deutsch-Amerikanischer Kinderchor” (German-American Children's Choir). Founded by active members of the United Male Chorus of Chicago, the Kinderchor was formed for children ages five through fourteen.

The large number of children who enrolled in those early years necessitated the formation of four groups in the Chicago area by geographical region: The young group flourished and gained recognition by performances at Chicago's International Amphitheater as 3,000 children's voices were raised at the 1938 National Saengerfest of the Nord Amerikanischer Saengerbund. Another performance accompanied by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra earned the Kinderchor a special citation which is on file in the United States Library of Congress. The four groups continued successfully until membership began to decline and in 1958 the then two remaining North and South Side groups merged under the direction of Mr. Ludwig Lohmiller until his retirement in 1972. Successor directors Marilyn Kern and Rose Dick, together with their very able assistants, kept Kinderchor in the spotlight and allowed them to remain a bright shining star in Chicago's German-American Community.

Today, the same dynamic energy and enthusiastic spirit remains imbedded within Kinderchor. Under the very capable direction of Ms. Carol Himmel, Kinderchor remains focused on fostering its heritage through song in today's multi-ethnic environment. The children perform two major concerts annually – a Mothers' Day and a Christmas Concert – and are in great demand to perform at numerous civic, community and ethnic functions. Most recently, they performed in concert on April 3 at the Irish-American Heritage Center with the world-famous Bielefelder Kinderchor from Bielefeld, Germany.

In June 2002, Kinderchor undertook its first successful concert tour through Germany and a second European tour in 2007 with performances in Munich, Salzburg, Passau, Reutlingen and Seefeld. Between tours was a visit to Florida's Disney World and EPCOT – and whether Germany, Austria or Florida, the friendship, music and travel are experiences the children will remember throughout their lives.

The gala 75th anniversary concert and dinner-dance will be a celebration to remember for all attendees – but will provide former Kinderchor members with a unique opportunity to reunite, recollect and rekindle friendships enjoyed while being a part of Kinderchor's history. For ticket information, contact Mrs. Irene Stoepler at 847-297-2231.

Recycling In Skokie Is Easier Than You Think

Skokie residents have the opportunity to make a significant contribution to the environment through the Village's comprehensive weekly curbside recycling program. Each single-family residence is provided with 65-gallon carts for recyclable materials. Skokie's recycling collection is provided by Groot Recycling and Waste Services, the firm with which the Village contracts for service.

By choosing to recycle residents can reduce pollution, create jobs and conserve natural resources and energy. All items that are recycled do not have to be disposed of in a landfill, creating a savings to the community.

Collection of recyclable materials occurs every week in single-family residential areas. The total weight of the filled recycling cart should not exceed 150 pounds. Please flatten large boxes and place them next to the cart. Please do not mix garbage or landscape waste in the recycling cart. Please try to minimize food waste remaining in recyclable containers. In curbside collection areas, please set out recycling containers by 7 a.m. on the day of pickup, but not before 6 p.m. on the night before collection.

Materials accepted in the recycling program include: aluminum cans, foil & tins; steel, tin, and bi-metal cans; empty/dry steel paint cans; empty aerosol cans; glass containers - all colors; plastic containers marked 1-5, 7; beverage six-pack rings; plastic grocery bags; plastic newspaper bags; foam egg cartons; small plastic foam trays; newspaper; magazines; catalogs; phone books; junk mail; gift wrap; white paper; corrugated cardboard; chipboard (cereal boxes, etc.) and colored paper. All boxes should be flattened. Soiled cardboard is not recyclable.

For information on household chemical waste drop off locations or other specialized recycling events visit www.swancc.org.

If refuse and recycling are not properly packaged for disposal, the Village may ticket the property owner and/or decline pickup of these items. Please contact the Public Works Department with questions at 847/933-8427.

Ordinance to Ban Hand-held Cell Phones While Driving Takes Effect - Police to Conduct Educational Enforcement Action

Evanston Police will begin an educational enforcement program to help inform motorists about the city's newly enacted ordinance making it illegal to engage in communication on a hand-held mobile telephone while driving. The ordinance was put forth by 7th Ward Alderman Jane Grover.

“The data shows that distracted driving, using a cell phone while driving, quadruples the risk of an accident,” explained Grover. “The ordinance will help reduce that risk in Evanston. When drivers try to manage their phone and their car at the same time, safety always loses out.”

Drivers, while operating a vehicle in Evanston, must use a hands free system which allows them to talk on the phone but at the same time keep their hands on the wheel and their eyes on the road. Prohibited mobile telephone usage also includes text messaging, sending, reading or listening to electronic messages or browsing the internet. The ordinance calls for a $50 fine for violators, with an additional penalty not to exceed $200 if the violation occurs at the time of a traffic accident.

Illinois law already bans texting while driving. The City's new ordinance also bans texting while driving but additionally prohibits web browsing or listening to voice mail while driving. The City ordinance permits drivers to talk on the phone while driving if they use a hands-free device.

“This new ordinance puts Evanston in line with a handful of other Illinois communities that have banned the use of hand held devices while driving,” said Grover. “All Evanston residents support increased safety on our streets, whether they are in a car, on a bike, or walking across a street.”

EDGEBROOK BRANCH
5331 W. Devon Avenue, Chicago, IL 60646
(312) 744-8313

The Edgebrook Book Club discusses this spring's One Book, One Chicago selection Brooklyn by Colm Toibin on Wednesday, April 28th at 6:30 p.m. at Chicago Public Library's Edgebrook Branch, 5331 W. Devon Avenue. This moving, hauntingly beautiful, historical novel set in Brooklyn and Ireland in the early 1950s concerns a young woman torn between her family and her past in Ireland and the American who wins her heart.

Chicagoan Nick De Leonardis, a die-hard Holmesian, meets every other month with the Sherlock Holmes discussion group to dissect the world of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. On Wednesday, May 5th at 6:30 p.m. the group discusses the short story, 'The Adventure of the Bruce-Partington Plans.' The strongest assets of this story are the international intrigue and the elements of Victorian high technology of both submarines and railroads. The reader also encounters Holmes' usually invisible brother, Mycroft, seven years his senior and very much Holmes' superior in logic.

On Wednesday, May 12th at 1 p.m., Matt Fishbune, Financial Advisor for Edward Jones and Social Security Administration Specialist Mayra Salazar, discuss the options available with Social Security both now and in the future. Key considerations are important age markers, earnings and other income, health and longevity, cost of living adjustments, and dependent benefits.

The Edgebrook Book Club discusses The Lucky One by the inimitable storyteller, Nicholas Sparks, on Wednesday, May 26th at 6:30 p.m. This story about a man whose scrape with death leads to his one true love will keep you up at night and then make you sleep more soundly.

THE STEM OF STUDENT SUCCESS

Niles Township High School District 219 STEM Labs Win National Award
If you walk down the science corridor at Niles North or Niles West High School, you will reach a large window that displays a setting unlike any other within the schools. It is like looking into an aquarium, only instead of plants and ornaments, there are sophisticated technologies and scientific equipment. Most exciting is what is happening within these high-tech industrial labs: tomorrow's engineers and scientists are researching, interacting, and exploring.

They are called STEM (science/technology/engineering/mathematics) labs, and educators from 30 high schools and 8 colleges and universities within Illinois have visited Niles Township High School District 219 (D219) to tour them. Now the labs have attained a national platform.

The National School Boards Association (NSBA) has awarded the D219 STEM labs a citation in its 2010 Exhibition of School Architecture. Only three other educational projects in the nation received the distinction.

According to NSBA, "The jury was very impressed with this well thought-out design. The STEM labs have the feel and look of commercial labs. Special features within the layout, such as the Think Tank area, provide excellent opportunities for students to brainstorm and collaborate on scientific issues. The jury felt these multi-disciplines represent a best practice for STEM laboratories."

The projects will be displayed April 10 - 12 at the 2010 NSBA Conference in Chicago. Over 5,000 board members, superintendents, and other educational leaders from throughout the U.S. are expected to attend the conference to discuss ways to improve student achievement.

"The D219 STEM labs cross the professional research laboratory with features of a traditional production shop," says James McDonough, director of education at Legat Architects, Inc. "It's all about promoting curricular integration and getting students excited about exploring, researching, and solving real life problems."

Remodeled from existing space within the high schools, each lab is about 3,000 SF and has two primary zones. The Think Tank area supports presentations, conferencing, and thinking out loud. It includes full AV input and output, a plasma TV, projectors/screens, and interactive white boards. In the Lab Zone, students have everything they need to apply lessons toward invention and problem solving: flexible configurations, storage, places to plug in, and equipment. The Lab Zone further divides into areas for physics, chemistry, and biology.

Dr. Nanciann Gatta, D219 Superintendent, says, "Our new STEM research centers at Niles North and Niles West provide opportunities for our students to collaborate with each other to carry out sophisticated research, communicate with e-mentors and peers throughout the world, and gain a competitive advantage as they seek college entrance. The STEM centers will better equip our students with the skills they need to build successful careers as scientists, mathematicians, engineers and researchers."

In addition, the foundation awarded its 2009 Growth Award to Evanston for the eleventh time in the award's 12-year history. To further recognize this impressive eleven-year Growth Award achievement, the National Arbor Day Foundation has named Evanston a Sterling Tree City USA.

MOTHER'S DAY GIFTS THAT LOOK GREAT AND TASTE EVEN BETTER!

EDIBLE ARRANGEMENTS OF EVANSTON TAKES THE JOY OF CELEBRATING MOTHERS TO AN ENTICING NEW LEVEL

Each year, devoted offspring often find themselves baffled over selecting the right Mother's Day gift that conveys love and appreciation, along with a flair of creativity. More often than not, the choice comes down to either a beautiful, fragrant bouquet of flowers delivered right to her doorstep or dinner at her favorite restaurant. But now, there's another option that's sure to delight. Edible Arrangements, the pioneer and leader in hand-sculpted, fresh fruit arrangements, has created a variety of stunning Mother's Day gifts that offer all the beauty and color of a floral bouquet, but are over-brimming with ripe and succulent fruit within in a dazzling arrangement.

According to the U.S. Census Bureau, there are 83 million mothers in the United States today. The National Retail Federation estimates that Americans will spend more than $15 billion this year honoring their mothers on May 9th. Dining out is expected to be the number one expense, with flowers following behind in a close second.

TIME FOR A FRESHER IDEA?

"While studies have shown flowers offer joy to the recipient, the feeling is fleeting due to a flower's limited duration," said Steve Thomas, vice president of marketing for Edible Arrangements. "To truly hit the mark, we have created a variety of Mothers Day displays that serve more than one delight -- the joy of a floral arrangement, the healthy, better-for-you aspect, and the opportunity to share her gift with the ones she loves the most. Each centerpiece is hand-crafted to order, using fresh fruit selected at the peak of ripeness."

Edible Arrangements offers several delicious and beautiful fruit arrangements especially for Mother's Day. Made to order from the highest-quality fruit, these edible sculptures are designed to delight recipients and make gift-givers proud:

Blooming Daisies® arrangement. This keepsake container is filled with an assortment of strawberries, pineapple, cantaloupe, and grapes to the point of near overflowing. Available in two sizes, the Blooming Daisies arrangement is available starting at $58.

Ordering is as quick and simple as purchasing flowers. Edible Arrangements assortments are available at over 870 locations in the United States. Call 847-425-1886 or online at ediblearrangements.com.

GREAT OUTDOORS

Urban Wildlife Coalition:

Spring Urban Wildlife Tips

Spring is a wonderfully busy time for urban wildlife. Take advantage of the season and our wild neighbors by enjoying nature hikes, watching the dazzling array of birds in our area, and following these tips.

Drive carefully, especially near forest preserves, parks, and other natural areas. Especially later in the spring, inexperienced young animals may venture out into the road. Be especially cautious during the dawn and dusk hours. Keep to the speed limit; allow enough space between cars; and scan the edges of the road.

In spring, animals like squirrels, mice, raccoons, and foxes are looking for ideal nesting sites. If you prefer not to host wildlife in your home, prevention is key – so much easier than trying to rid your home of unwanted visitors later. Take an hour or two now to inventory your home for possible entry sites, and seal them before new residents move in. If wildlife has already started unpacking, a bit of patience goes a long way. Try to wait until newborns are on their own before trying to evict wildlife visitors.

Keep cats indoors. Outdoor pets are the leading cause of wildlife deaths in the spring.

Animals are establishing new nests in the spring, so avoid cutting trees and shrubs and applying pesticides and herbicides.

Think strategic gardening. Want to attract wildlife to your backyard? Consider plants and landscaping that lure birds, butterflies, and others. Hoping to deter animals from your garden? Now's the time to think about growing plants they do not enjoy and building fences around the types they do. Look to the next issue of Our Village for specific gardening tips.

HELP NILES NORTH RECYCLE 4 TONS OF PAPER THIS MONTH

Last year Niles North recycled over 73,000 tons of paper—enough to save over 110 cubic yards of landfill space, over 612 trees and 250,000 gallons of water. The Niles North Recycling Club has set a goal of four tons of paper this month—a reachable goal, with the community's help. Bring your recyclable paper to the green and yellow Paper Retriever bins in the back of the school lot at 9800 Lawler, Skokie. Paper suitable for recycling includes all CLEAN and DRY: newspapers, magazines, catalogs, office and school papers and mail. No phone books, cardboard, food boxes, fiberboard, chipboard, textbooks or hardcover books, please. Do not drop metal, plastic or aluminum in the bin. This is a simple way to support the school and its programs and help the environment at the same time. The Recycling Club earns money for every ton of recyclable materials that is collected and uses the funds to further promote recycling efforts within the school. The Recycling Club sponsor is Pam Frontzak.

"The Old Settler"

Writers' Theatre, 376 Park Avenue, Glencoe, Illinois

Reviewed by Richard Allen Eisenhardt

The Writers' Theatre in Glencoe, Illinois, is honoring Black History Month with their production of John Henry Redwood's play "The Old Settler."

I know I've seen the show once before but I don't remember if it was at "The Goodman Theatre," "Court Theatre," "Steppenwolf Theatre" or "Northlight Theatre."

While it takes two and a half hours to tell this warm, heart-breaking story with intermission it is an engrossing evening of theatre and it does have some funny scenes.

Ron OJ Parson has done a wonderful job in his direction and casting with Cheryl Lynn Bruce as Elizabeth Borny, Wanda Christine as Quilly McGarh, Kevin Rosten, Jr. as Husband and Alexis J. Rogers as Lou Bessie Preston.

The play is set in Harlem in the spring of 1943. Elizabeth and Quilly are sisters who share their quiet lives together. When Elizabeth encounters Husband who is from the country she invites him to rent a room since he is having a difficult time adjusting to the Big City.

Every actor in this production that is poetic, lyrical, melancholy, has its humor gives a powerful performance. Quilly is a spunky sister and at times at odds with Elizabeth who has a good heart but goes through her share of pain and suffering when she falls for the handsome Husband. Husband comes to Harlem chasing after the sexy Lou Bessie Preston who provides the comedy element in the show.

Husband thinks he is in love with Elizabeth in this poignant play but in the end Elizabeth realizes that the age difference between the two that their relationship won't work.

The two sisters find strength and forgiveness that families should have. I'm glad I saw this show as it gives audiences a lot to think about.

"The Old Settler" runs until March 28th and could get extended. For show schedule, times and reservations call 847-242-6000. Tickets are $50 - $65 - Four Stars -

When a Baker and his Wife learn the Witch next door has cursed them with childlessness, they embark on a quest to break the spell. Along the way, they swindle, lie, and steal from Cinderella, Little Red, Rapunzel, and Jack of beanstalk fame. Masks and puppets creatively convey the storybook sense of wonder and fear in this modern morality tale. The bewitchingly beautiful score features the well-known songs "Children Will Listen" and "No One Is Alone."

Chicago Philharmonic Presents Blockbuster Beethoven's Ninth: Ode to Joy

The Chicago Philharmonic will present the classical masterpiece Beethoven's Ninth: "Ode to Joy" on May 2, 2010 at 7 p.m. at Pick-Staiger Hall in Evanston. The concert will feature rising stars from the Ryan Center for Young Artists at Lyric Opera and the North Shore Choral Society. Larry Rachleff will conduct.

The evening will open with a cappella excerpts from 'The Peaceable Kingdom' by Randall Thompson presented by the North Shore Choral Society, conducted by the Society's music director, Dr. Julia Davids. The group will perform Have Ye Not Heard? and Ye Shall Have a Song. Following the choral pieces will be Beethoven's Romance for Violin and Orchestra No. 1 in G Major Opus 40 with David Perry, Violin. Beethoven's Symphony No. 9: "The Choral" presented in its entirety will conclude the evening.

One of the most influential symphonies ever written, Beethoven's Symphony No. 9 is complicated, powerful and exciting. Symphony No. 9 was Ludwig van Beethoven's last complete symphony. It was completed in 1824, only three years before his death in 1827. Beethoven was completely deaf at the time that he composed this epic piece. It is regarded by most as a masterpiece, and one of the greatest accomplishments of his very productive life. Symphony No. 9 was also the first example of a major composer incorporating voice into a symphonic work. In the fourth and final movement, Beethoven adapted a poem written by Friedrich Schiller in 1785 – An die Freude ("Ode to Joy"). The elaborate movement features four soloists and a full chorus. The North Shore Choral Society and soloists from Ryan Center for Young Artists at Lyric Opera will join the Chicago Philharmonic to deliver this final movement and the spectacular "Ode to Joy".

The Chicago Philharmonic will also welcome to the stage a small group of very talented budding young artists. As part of the orchestra's Side by Side program, in partnership with New Trier High School, seven exceptional young players have been working very hard alongside of some of the orchestra's finest mentor members. These promising young talents will have the great honor of joining the renowned Chicago Philharmonic in presenting Beethoven's incredible masterpiece. Beethoven's Ninth has been a favorite of classical music fans and this concert will constitute a brilliant finish to the Chicago Philharmonic's 20th anniversary season.

Tickets are $20-$70. Performance takes place at Pick-Staiger Hall, 50 Arts Circle Drive, Evanston, IL, 60201. Call 847.866.6888 or visit www.chicagophilharmonic.org for more information.

What Keeps a New Mom Up at Night Besides the Baby?

Chester M. Przybylo

The birth of a new baby is a wondrous, joyous event. Henry David Thoreau said that "every child begins the world again." Your world certainly began anew with your new baby!

It was a long path and it all seemed to happen so fast! But, it seems like there are still so many decisions to be made now and as your baby grows from infant to toddler, to school-age, to young adult. And, who would make those decisions if something happened to you?

First, if you died or were mentally incapacitated, your baby would need a Guardian to look after their physical and financial well being. You "nominate," or suggest, a Guardian for your child in your Will. When the court is determining who should be named your child's Guardian, it will give your preferred choice a lot of weight. The Guardian would have the privilege and responsibility of taking care of your child and providing for their material and emotional needs in the event of your death. Select --the person as Guardian whom you trust most to raise your child and provide them a loving, nurturing environment. However, be sure to discuss the matter with the person you intend to select to make sure they are willing and able to take on the responsibility.

The best person to serve as your child's Guardian may not have sufficient financial resources to provide the future you want for your child. And, you do not want your child to cause any financial hardship on the Guardian. Life insurance can provide the financial resources that could be used to pay for your child's living expenses and education, and enable the future you want for your child.

One of the most important ways you can plan for your baby's future is to plan for your own future. A qualified estate planning attorney can help you create a comprehensive plan:

- A Revocable Living Trust holds your property during your lifetime. If you become incapacitated, it allows for easy management of your property for you and your child. So, if you become ill, the person you designate, your successor "Trustee," can step in to make sure things are handled until you are up and around again. In the event of your death, that person would manage the assets for the benefit of your child in the manner you've set forth. Your life insurance can be paid to your Trust so that the money is managed for your child by a responsible adult, the Trustee you've selected.

- A Financial Power of Attorney allows your "Agent" to take care of assets outside the Trust.

- A Health Care Power of Attorney (also known as an Advance Health Care Directive or Health Care Proxy) allows you to appoint someone to make health decisions for you in the event you are unable to make them for yourself. Having your health decisions in capable hands means you'll be able to recover faster to be with your child.

- The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) prohibits the release of protected health care information without your permission. It is important to make sure your loved ones and prospective decision-makers can access your health information, when necessary. A HIPAA Authorization Form ensures access to your protected health information for people whom you designate. This way people you designate can continue to get your health records, which may be crucial to your baby's future well-being. For example, your child may need to know things about your medical history to diagnose their own medical issues.

A qualified estate planning attorney, who focuses his or her practice in estate planning, can help you put together a comprehensive plan that will care for you and your child in the event of your incapacity or even your death. Protect yourself and your baby from the unexpected. Call and schedule an appointment with an estate planning attorney today. You'll sleep better once you do.... at least when the baby lets you!

Chester M. Przybylo has been elected to the Board of Governors of the prestigious American Academy of Estate Planning Attorneys and has been engaged in the practice of law for the last 40 years. For more information or to attend an upcoming seminar, call (773) 631-2525.

PATTY DUKE SHOW FAMILY REUNITES TO PROMOTE SOCIAL SECURITY'S ONLINE SERVICES

By John Flynn, Social Security District Manager

Patty Duke is back — and this time she's brought the entire family. The cast of The Patty Duke Show reunited to create a series of public service announcements to promote Social Security's new online Medicare application and other services.

You can view the new spots at www.socialsecurity.gov/medicareonly.

Patty Duke and her television family entertained American households on The Patty Duke Show in the 1960s. Now, they're telling families just how fast and easy it is to apply online for Medicare. It takes less than 10 minutes.

Even if you decide to wait until after you're age 65 to apply for retirement benefits, most people should start getting Medicare coverage at age 65. If you'd like to begin your Medicare coverage, you should apply within four months of reaching age 65.

It's important to note that people who already receive Social Security retirement or disability benefits do not need to apply; they will be automatically enrolled in Medicare.

Why apply online? Because it's fast, easy, and convenient. You don't need an appointment and you can avoid waiting in traffic or in line.

If you're within four months of turning age 65 or older, what are you waiting for? As Patty Duke and her television family will tell you, it takes less than 10 minutes! Visit www.socialsecurity.gov and select the "Retirement/Medicare" link in the middle of the page.

And be sure to catch TV's most famous identical cousins and the whole family at www.socialsecurity.gov/medicareonly.

Ask an Attorney...

Q. Why should I learn something about estate planning?
A. Taking time to learn about estate planning can pay big dividends for you and your family by helping you to avoid common, costly pitfalls of estate planning. Knowing the facts can help you avoid probate and guardianship, and protect your privacy.

Q. I have a will... so I don't have to worry about probate. Right?

A. Wrong. A will is an expensive, one-way ticket to the probate court.

Q. What happens if I die without a will or trust?

A. If you die without a will or trust, the state determines who will be your ultimate heirs. And they may not be the people you wanted to benefit from your estate.

Q. Why do I hear so much about guardianship today?

A. As more and more people live longer, there is a greater chance of them being incapacitated. A guardianship is a court-supervised proceeding that names an individual or entity to manage the affairs of an incapacitated person. A will has no power in this proceeding.

Q. Shouldn't I just put my child's name on the title to my property to avoid probate?

A. While this may avoid probate, it can have lots of unintended consequences... your child's creditors will be able to reach the joint tenancy property, it may also create a taxable gift, and you might end up disinheriting your own grandchildren.

Q. What is the fastest, easiest way to learn about good estate planning?

A. Just attend one of my free seminars. I don't talk in legalese, and I use lots of real-life examples to give you the information you need. I've helped hundreds of clients achieve peace of mind—let me help you.
